Jason Siepl has been a Halloween Howl volunteer since its beginning. He still enjoys volunteering as one of the monsters who makes the event spooktacular. (Right) Jason Siepl volunteering as Frankenstein for Halloween Howl monsters in 1994. He was 8 years old at the time the photo was taken.

Halloween Howl promises ghastly good time

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Antioch's downtown will be transformed into a web of haunted walkways and horrors as the village sponsors its eighth Halloween Howl on Oct. 17-18. Events will be taking place off of Main, Lake and Orchard streets, and Toft Avenue.

"I've been involved with Halloween Howl since the beginning," said Billie Horton, director of special events. "Jason Siepl was one of my first monsters, and he continues to volunteer for me. The volunteers really make this event special."

Siepl said he's been involved several aspects of the howl, but his favorite is dressing up in some ghoulish get-up.

"I love to help out with the haunted hayride," he said. "I like getting dressed up in costume and scaring people. That's why they come."

Events will take place on Friday from 4:30-8:30 p.m. and on Saturday from noon-6 p.m. for children under 10 years old. There will be Happy Haunted Graveyard, Dracula's Cave and Smiling Spirits.

Events for older goblins will take place on Friday from 6-10 p.m. and on Saturday from 1-6 p.m. There will be the Mummy's Tomb and the House of Terror. On Friday night only the truly brave can participate in the Haunted Trail Ride and the Terrifying Trail.

"I also like to help with setting up the Terrifying Trail," Siepl said. "When you work on a project from year to year, you can figure out what needs to be done to try to make it better."

Features and activities for ghouls and boys of all ages include visits to the Witches' Kitchen to buy treats and goodies to raise money for the Antioch Upper Grade PTO. Happy Hay Rides are being sponsored by Antioch True Value/Just Ask Rental.

Other family entertainment includes Happy Ghosts sponsored by the Antioch Cheerleaders Association, the Safety Zone sponsored by the Antioch Fire Department and Freaky Fortunes sponsored by Antioch parks and recreation.

If that weren't enough, Smile Pretty is a photo booth where photos will be taken with monsters for $1. Additionally, there will be a Tattoo Parlor (temporary, of course) sponsored by Accent Uniform.

The pumpkin contest will be held on Friday. Carved and decorated pumpkins are to be brought to 414 Lake St. between 4:30-7:30 p.m. Judging will be held at 8 p.m. There will be a costume contest at 6:15 on Saturday at the Brook Memorial Entertainment Center.

Prizes for both contests will be awarded in the age categories of 0-6, 7-12, and 13 and up. "I'm really into Halloween," Siepl said. "It's a great holiday. It's a lot of fun, especially because of what happens here in town."

County, village want input on SMC plan

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Spearheaded by Antioch Trustee Scott Pierce, a special meeting was slated for this week by the village of Antioch to ensure residents have an opportunity to hear the issues of the Sequoit Creek Watershed Management.

"It's crucial that we have residential input," Pierce said previously. "This is very important to our village in particular, but also the surrounding communities."

Lake County board member Judy Martini (R-Antioch) said she had gotten so many questions and concerns about the plan that she asked the Stormwater Management Committee (SMC) to be available at an Oct. 22 meeting at the Antioch-Lake Villa Township Center. The meeting will run from 7-9 p.m.

"I want people to get their questions answered, and the best way is for them to go straight to the source," Martini said.

Pierce said that having the village meeting one week before would give residents two opportunities to educate themselves and ask questions. "If some questions don't get answered or if additional questions are raised at our meeting, residents will be able to find out more one week later," he said.

Mandhardt Consulting and village attorney Bob Long will be available to answer questions at the village's meeting.

Drafts of the Sequoit Creek Watershed Plan can be downloaded off of Lake County's web site at www.co.lake.il.us. Additionally, copies of the plan are available at the village halls, libraries and township offices of both Antioch and Lake Villa.

Martini said she had also been receiving a number of questions about the flood plan map.

"This is separate," she said. "SMC will be available to answer questions about this on Nov. 10 from 5-8:30 p.m. at the Antioch Township office."

The Antioch Township office is located within the Antioch-Lake Villa Township Center on Deep Lake Road, north of Grass Lake Road on the east side.

In town, the meeting originally slated for Oct. 15 was changed to Oct. 16, at 7:30 p.m. in the village's Community Room (located just south of Village Hall on Main Street).

CAD, MABAS help fire department respond to multiple calls

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Multiple fires within the course of one week kept not only Antioch firefighters busy, but nearby firefighters brought in to assist Antioch's teams.

"The dispatch supervisor and one of our lieutenants have spent a great deal of time setting up the CAD (Computer Aided Dispatch) system for us, and their work has really paid off during these calls," said Antioch Fire Chief Dennis Volling. "With the ability to summon automatic aid during the initial dispatch, we have greatly reduced the response times for additional equipment."

The first in the string of fire occurred on Oct. 5 shortly after 10 p.m. to a house under construction on Drexel in unincorporated Antioch Township. As part of the automatic aid agreement, a tanker was dispatched to the area. Crew members reported seeing "a large glow in the sky" as they crossed the Grass Lake Road bridge.

Firefighters from Antioch's Station 3 arrived to find the structure fully involved putting the area that flanks the structure at risk. As there are no hydrants in the area, water to suppress the flames had to be brought in tanker.

"The automatic aid which is part of our CAD system provided our department with all the resources necessary to prevent the fire from spreading, and quickly extinguish the fire as well," said Deputy Chief Leonard Sakalowski.

The second fire occurred in an abandoned house on Linden Lane in unincorporated Antioch on Oct. 11

X St. Ignatius celebrates 50 years of turkey

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

St. Ignatius is at a milestone as this will be the 50th year it hosts a turkey dinner. The dinner will be served on Oct. 25 from 4-8 p.m. in the gymnasium of St. Peter School to better accommodate the anticipated crowds.

"We're hoping to make a pretty big splash this year because it's our 50th anniversary," said Nancy McConnell, one of the event organizers. "This is a big year, so we've added some new things like a silent auction. We have some big ticket items."

The cost of the dinner is $10 for adults and $5 for children under the age of 12 years old. Carry out is available for those who would rather eat in the comfort of their own homes.

Dinner includes turkey, mashed potatoes and gravy, stuffing and dessert. Dessert is said to be the crowning jewel of the dinner with a variety of home baked goodies provided by the church congregation.

"We have a bake sale in conjunction with the dinner," McConnell said. "Chances are, if you like one of the desserts, you might be able to purchase some to take home through the bake sale."

Also new this year, raffle tickets can be used for some specific items instead of being randomly drawn.

McConnell said, "We really have some wonderful items this year. This way people can increase their chances for a specific item. Maybe they want all the raffle tickets to go towards the quilt."

Raffle tickets are $1 each or six for $5.

All tickets will be available at the door the day of the event or can be purchased in advance from church members.

The queen-size log cabin quilt made by Mary Kay Tointon, event chair, is on display at Hannah's Home Accents. Raffle tickets for that item may be purchased there.

Tointon's husband Glenn has added to the handmade collection of items available, either as part of the silent auction or through the raffles. He made a solid cherry sofa table and four solid maple cutting boards.

Additionally, Glenn took charge of collecting and keeping track of many of the items donated for the event.

"We really have a lot of great things this year," he said. "Some of the highlights include three different vacation packages: one to Orlando, on to Vegas and one smaller trip of choice."

Other items include Cubs and White Sox autographed photographs, box seats to the Blackhawks, several restaurant gift certificates, a Delta grinder (tool), a turkey fryer, an American Girl doll and a $50 gift certificate for dry cleaning.

"I'm still collecting prizes," said Glenn. "There's no telling what else we'll end up with."

Glenn said one of the advantages to separating out some of the raffle items is that it gives the children an opportunity to win a raffle that would be of their choosing.

"We have other children's items besides the American Girl doll," he said. "This gives the kids more of an opportunity to really be part of things."

St. Peter School, the location of the St. Ignatius event, is behind St. Peter Church north of the intersection of Routes 59 and 173 on Lake Street.

X High school flips switch on gas-to-energy project

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

It's not the smell of methane that has had officials of Community High School District 117 holding their collective breath. It's the holdups that have delayed the Antioch Community High School's (ACHS) landfill gas-to-energy (LFGTE) project.

Earlier this year, hesitancy on the part of the board of directors of the Village of Antioch to sign a memorandum of understanding delayed completion anticipated for mid-April.

Though the project has been delayed, it's reported to be within budget. The switch will flip for the small generation plant with 12 turbines on Oct. 17, barring further complications.

Commonwealth Edison made its final-final inspection at the end of last week," said Bill Ahlers, business manager of the district. "They had to ensure that everything was set up to connect to their electrical grid. I can't blame them for wanting to be thorough."

Ahlers said there would be no big hoopla when the project management team arrives to turn the system on for the first time.

"We will have a big grand opening a couple of weeks down the road, but this will be a low-key event," he said. "We are happy to be capturing the gas and converting it to energy finally."

The system reportedly uses the gas in the most efficient way as the heat generated by the creation of the electricity is used by the school and the electricity itself is sold off to Commonwealth Edison.

"According to the engineers, the decibel level (from outside the building that houses the turbines) should be no more than a conversational tone," said Superintendent Dennis Hockney previously. "We've had engineers talking to engineers and they're satisfied the noise won't be a problem, and that's good enough for us."

Hockney and Ahlers were invited to speak at the Great Lakes Regional Pollution Prevention Round Table and were encouraged to apply for the 2003 Illinois Governor's Pollution Prevention Award.

"This is a project where everybody wins," Hockney said. "Clearly, a project that utilizes methane that is otherwise just being burned off benefits the community and the environment as well as the high school."

X Historical Society celebrates 30 years

Instead of its regular meeting this month, the Lakes Region Historical Society will celebrate its 30th anniversary on Thursday, Oct. 23 at 7:30 p.m. in the Meeting House located on Main Street south of Lake Street.

President Wendy Maston said, "This is going to be a low-key event, but invitations are going out to all the members. I'm sure we'll hold a short business meeting, but that will be it for an official agenda."

Maston said Ainsley Wonderling, museum director, had been doing research in the Antioch Public Library and came across the minutes for the first meeting. The society began its work in August 1973.

"We missed out on having a celebration in August, but we wanted to recognize the anniversary even if it is a little late," Maston said. "We've been working hard on a number of projects like having a permanent veterans' memorial room in the meeting house that we plan to unveil to coincide with Veterans Day."

The Lakes Region Historical Society is always open to new members. Those interested in joining can get more information by calling 847-395-7337.

There's never a lack of entertainment opportunities in Antioch, and this fall is no exception.

Peter Fletcher will be playing classical guitar on Saturday, Oct. 18 from 1-3 p.m. at the Antioch Public Library. He has played at several colleges, churches and libraries on the east coast and is touring Illinois.

Performing his first concert at the age of 15 years old, Fletcher has continued to be recognized for his musical achievements. In 1990, the Music Teacher's National Association (MTNA) awarded Fletcher a prize at its National Competition. In addition to many other awards, he was twice the recipient of an Eastman Graduate Award.

Fletcher holds a Master of Music degree from Eastman and is currently a guitar instructor for Emory University's popular adult continuing education classes, "Evenings at Emory."

Fletcher's latest CD "Suite

Always giving those of the theatrical ilk an opportunity to perform while providing the community with an opportunity to enjoy live theater, the PM&L Theatre in Antioch is presenting Readers' Theatre Afternoon on Oct. 19 at 2:30 p.m.

Sally Roberts, of Antioch, will direct two short stories in a readers' theater format, no costumes or props, for the afternoon's entertainment. The stories promise to be "ghostly good."

"The Open Window" by Saki is a humorous story with a touch of the supernatural while "The Monkey's Paw" by W.W. Jacobs is a story to send chills through you," said Betty Smouse, publicity director for PM&L.

The performance is free of charge and will last about one hour. No reservations are necessary.

Cast members include Chris and Karl Heilgeist, of Salem, Wis.; Kevin Carr, of Lindenhurst; and Gene LeFave, Reggie Reynolds and Sally Roberts, all of Antioch.

The theater is located at 877 Main St., Antioch. For more information, call 847-395-6719.

SCHOOL DIGEST

AUGS performs spooky spooft Oct. 17-18

Antioch Upper Grade School has scheduled its fall play "Frankenstein Slept Here" for Friday and Saturday, Oct. 17-18, at 7 p.m. on both nights.

Students have spent weeks practicing for what promises to be a ghostly good time.

Fourth-graders perform musical concerts

Fourth-graders from Oakland Grade School will have a musical performance on Thursday, Oct. 23, at 1:30 p.m. at the school.

The school is located at the intersection of Grass Lake and Deep Lake roads.

The following week, Thursday, Oct. 30 at 2 p.m., W.C. Petty School's fourth-graders will perform a musical concert. W.C. Petty is located next to the Antioch Upper Grade School on Highview Drive.

AUGS hosts Broadway Showcase

Antioch Upper Grade School students will show off their talents at the Broadway Showcase. This performance will be held on Oct. 30, at 7 p.m.

Antioch Upper Grade School is located on Highview Drive off of Tiffany Road.

Yearbook staff seeks pictures

Emmons School yearbook staff welcomes submitted pictures from parents, grandparents, friends or siblings that show Emmons students and that would be appropriate for the yearbook.

The staff asks that pictures be clear and not blurry. Pictures will not be returned so do not send anything that will be missed or for which there is not a duplicate.

Pictures should be sent to the school via students or regular mail to: Yearbook Pictures, Emmons School, 24226 W. Beach Grove Road, Antioch, IL 60002.

District 34 posts school calendar

Antioch Community Consolidated District 34 has posted the calendar for the 2003-04 school year on its web site: www.dist34.lake.k12.il.us.

Additional information such as the Antioch Advantage Action Plan for problem solving within the district and the curricular review cycle can be accessed on this site.

District 117 announces 2003-04 meetings

Antioch Community High School District 117 board of education has announced its meeting dates and locations for the 2003-04 school year.

The next meeting will be held on Thursday, Oct. 2 at 6:30 p.m. in the ACHS library and Wednesday, Oct. 15, at 7:30 p.m. in the district office.

Regular meetings will be held on Nov. 6, at 6:30 p.m. in the ACHS library, Nov. 19, at 7:30 p.m. in the district office and on Dec. 11, at 6:30 p.m., again at the ACHS library.

The district office is located on Deep Lake Road just north of Grass Lake Road in the Antioch/Lake Villa Township Building.

Early childhood screening

Antioch Community Consolidated District 34 offers early childhood developmental screening.

Parents with concerns should consider this. Developmental screening is a brief series of activities and observations designed to identify children who may have a potential problem that requires further assessment.

Screening is available to children between the ages of 3-5 years old and who have not yet entered kindergarten within District 34. To schedule an appointment, call the special education office at 847-838-8422.

MABAS

at 8 p.m. Dispatchers identified the incident as "a working fire within the CAD system" and this brought automatic aid units from Fox Lake and Wilmet, Wis. as well. Engines from Lake Villa and Bristol, Wis. stood by the Antioch stations.

The Lake Villa engine had reportedly just pulled into the Antioch station when it was sent out to handle a downed power line that had caught fire on Raintree Lane. A Round Lake engine replaced the Lake Villa engine at Antioch's Station 1.

Crews were just finishing up at the Linden Lane incident when they were sent to Lake Avenue off of Route 173 to extinguish a car fire. The vehicle was reportedly fully involved and high winds were pushing the flames toward a nearby home.

A second car fire was reported in the area of Bluff Lake Drive and Mallard, and while a car had crashed into a pole there was no fire. The driver was turned over to the Antioch Rescue Squad for treatment.

"This has been a very busy week for us," Volling said. "This all occurred during Fire Prevention Week when our people covered eight schools in five days and ended the week with a very busy Saturday. I am proud of the effort put forth by everyone, and proud of the people at home who support them."

There were no reported injuries, and in all cases the cause of fire is still under investigation.

Grass Lake School's PTO isn't going to let the student body do without things like field trips and awards. It has stepped up its fundraising efforts to help the school that is in financial dire straits.

With that, the PTO has increased the number of fundraisers for the year with the first being a craft show on Oct. 18 from 9 a.m.-4 p.m.

Lori Heywood, chair of the special events committee for the PTO, said, "Our referendum didn't pass this year. Without our financial help, things like field trips and some of the awards the students receive would be eliminated. It's our goal to help the school out as much as we can, so we've set out to raise more money this year."

The show will be held in the school's gymnasium. Hot dogs and other lunch-type items will be available for those interested in a quick bite to eat.

In addition to holiday items, candles, woodworking and other typical craft show fare, Heywood said the show has drawn vendors with unusual, specialized items.

"Some of the more unusual things we'll have to offer are specialty pound cakes in a variety of flavors, handcrafted olive wood from the holy land, beautiful carved clocks and one lady is doing paintings right there at the school," she said. "She describes her paintings as whimsical portraits and says they take about 20 minutes to paint."

Heywood said the PTO has rounded up a vendor with "manly items" made mostly of recycled tires, some of which have a Nascar theme.

"We had this vendor at one of our craft shows last year, and the men just loved the planters and different things that were offered," she said. "It's not all Nascar stuff, there are Chevy things and others, but it's all stuff that appeals to men."

In conjunction with the craft show, the PTO is having a bake sale of homemade goodies and will be selling "Entertainment" books for $20. The proceeds will go to the PTO that will, in turn, support school programs.

The school's ski club will be selling Affy Tapples to support its functions over the course of the school year.

Grass Lake School is located on Grass Lake Road, about two and one-half miles west of Route 59. For more information, call Heywood at 847-395-2679.

ANTIOCH

DUI

Antonio Hernandez, 22, of 914 Main St., was arrested for DUI on Oct. 11 at 12:22 a.m. on Route 83 south of Grimm Road.

Hernandez was stopped for crossing the yellow center line. He told police he did not have a driver's license. A check of his identifiers through LEADS/NCIC/SOS came back with no information on file.

The officer detected the strong odor of alcoholic beverage and asked that Hernandez submit to a portable breath test, which he refused.

Hernandez was arrested and issued citations for operating an uninsured vehicle, no valid driver's license and improper lane usage. He also refused chemical testing at the police station.

Hernandez was released on personal recognizance pending his Nov. 4 court date.

Brandi L. Watson, 36, of Deerwood, Minn., was arrested for DUI on Oct. 11 at 12:15 a.m. on Tiffany Road at Tiffany Farms.

She was stopped for traveling without headlights, not signaling a turn and stopping beyond the stop sign. Additionally, she had no rear registration lights.

Watson was only able to produce an expired Minnesota driver's license.

The officer detected the strong odor of alcoholic beverage. She failed all field sobriety tests requested of her. She was arrested for DUI.

At the police station, Watson submitted to chemical testing resulting in .141 blood alcohol concentration. She was issued citations for no lights when required, failure to signal, disobeying a stop sign, no rear registration plate lights and DUI over .08.

She was released on personal recognizance pending her Nov. 4 court date.

Jonas R. Schlichter, 29, of 25048 Edgar Ave., was arrested for DUI on Oct. 10 at 12:22 a.m. on Route 173 and Talman Avenue.

Schlichter was locked traveling 75 mph in a 40-mph zone.

He entered the parking lot when he was pulled over and lost control of his motorcycle and slid on the right side of his bike. Schlichter tried to upright the bike and dropped it to the other side.

He told police he knew he shouldn't be on his motorcycle. He was unable to provide his driver's license or proof of insurance, but a check through LEADS/NCIC came back that his driver's license was clear and valid.

The officer detected the strong odor of alcoholic beverage. Schlichter failed all field sobriety tests requested of him.

Schlichter refused chemical testing. He was arrested and issued citations for DUI, speeding and operating an uninsured vehicle. He was released on cash bond pending his Nov. 4 court date.

Sean M. Lawrence, 20, of 25017 113th St., Trevor, Wis., was arrested for DUI on Oct. 12 at 9:08 p.m. on Route 83 north of North Avenue.

An officer was dispatched to the area for a possible DUI.

An off-duty officer saw Lawrence swerving with tires crossing the centerline and failing to use his turn signal when he turned onto North Avenue. The off-duty officer identified himself as such and told Lawrence to wait for an on-duty officer to arrive.

Lawrence told the arresting officer that he did not have his driver's license on him, but a check through LEADS/SOS confirmed that he did have a valid Wisconsin driver's license.

The officer detected the strong odor of alcoholic beverage and Lawrence failed all field sobriety tests requested of him. A portable breath test showed a result of .148 blood alcohol concentration.

Inventory for tow revealed a half-full alcoholic beverage.

Lawrence was arrested and issued citations for improper lane usage and DUI. He agreed to chemical testing and the Breathalyzer test resulted in .147 blood alcohol concentration.

Lawrence was issued additional citations for DUI over .08, failure to signal, illegal transportation of alcohol and no driver's license on person. He posted $300 cash bond and was released pending Nov. 18 court.

Minor consumption of alcohol

JoAnne Nellesen, 18, of W. 810 Florence Road, Genoa City, Wis., was arrested for minor consumption of alcohol on Oct. 12 at 9:08 p.m.

Nellesen had been a passenger in Sean M. Lawrence's car when he was arrested for DUI.

LAKE VILLA

Trash bin fire

Lake Villa Police responded to a call about a trash container fire on Oct. 13, at 4:32 a.m. Police arrived at the site at 220 Berkshire to find flames reaching up 4-5 feet in height. Lake Villa Volunteer Fire Department responded and extinguished the fire. According to the police report, Fire Chief Frank Slazes speculated that the fire might have been caused by spontaneous combustion from flammable materials from several nearby construction projects. There is no suspicion that the fire was intentional. The trash bin was damaged, but there was no threat to any nearby residences.

Stolen car

A 56-year-old male resident of Waterbury Circle called Lake Villa Police to report his van was missing as of Oct. 9, at 6:30 a.m. The man told police a 34-year-old female who was living with him to assist with the care of his elderly father had previously had use of the car. On the morning of Oct. 9, he found the woman and the van missing.

LINDENHURST

Possession of heroin

Michael J. Fischer, 28, of 404 Garfield Ave., Ingleside, was arrested by Lindenhurst Police on Oct. 6, at 11:58 p.m., at Waterford Commons. Police observed two males and their vehicles parked outside the rear of Rosatti's Pizza. Neither man had an explanation for why they were parked there at that hour. One of the men was released when a check of his license turned up nothing. Fischer was found to be driving with a suspended license for DUI alcohol. An inventory of his vehicle turned up a plastic bag containing 60 aluminum packets of a brown powder that field-tested positive for heroin. A Lake County K-9 unit was brought in and made a "hit" on a travel mug in the floorboards of the vehicle. The mug was taken into evidence along with a water bottle, a prescription drug bottle containing an unidentified clear liquid and two bags of hypodermic syringes. Fischer was charged with driving with a suspended license, possession of a controlled substance and possession with intent to deliver a controlled substance. He was turned over to Fox Lake Police to be held in custody pending bond court.

Domestic battery

Lindenhurst Police have obtained a warrant with a $5,000 bond for the arrest of Delia Baldwin, 36, of 2109 Sprucewood, Lindenhurst, on charges of domestic battery. Police were called to the home on Oct. 8 at 10:30 a.m. regarding a domestic dispute in progress. Baldwin reportedly struck her 39-year-old husband in the head with a Bible during an argument.

Domestic violence awareness recognized

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Because domestic abuse is a serious crime that affects people of all races, ages, income levels and sexes, the board of directors of the village of Antioch approved a proclamation declaring October domestic violence awareness month.

"It's wonderful that this was recognized by the village," said Police Chief Chuck Fagan. "The most dangerous calls that our officers answer are domestic abuse calls."

Fagan said the problem is so widespread that the county has a court specifically committed to handling cases of domestic violence, and that conservatively, 40-45 percent of the calls the Antioch Police Department answers are for domestic abuse.

"It's not just women who are the victims," Fagan said. "There are acts of domestic violence that are committed against men as well, but in cases of female homicide, it's twice as likely to have been committed by someone the woman was intimate with."

Additionally, Fagan said that in 88 percent of the cases where the domestic violence led to a fatality, there was a history of abuse.

He said, "Fortunately, in the state of Illinois, if an officer goes into a situation and can see clear signs of physical violence, that officer is mandated to make an arrest."

Fagan said that often it is the victim who will urge police not to make an arrest and that it may even go so far that the victim physically attacks the arresting officer.

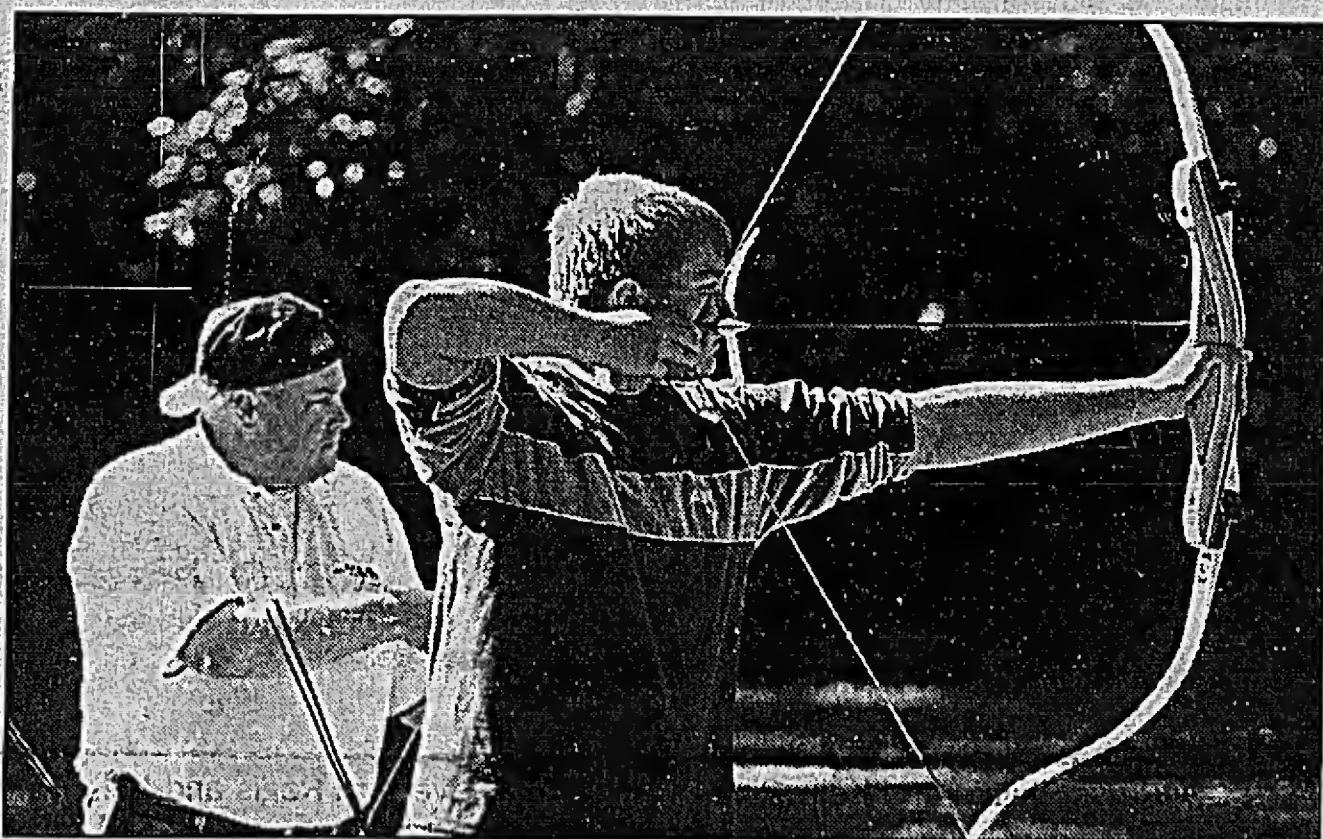

Fagan said he encourages those outside of the situation to report domestic violence.

He said, "We don't need a name of who is calling the report. You can tell when things aren't right, and that's when a call should be made. We don't want to be involved in settling an argument, but it's usually pretty obvious when things have escalated beyond that point."

LOCAL DIGEST

Halloween Howl offers fiendish fun

Halloween Howl is scheduled for Friday, Oct. 17 and Saturday, Oct. 18 in downtown Antioch. The hours are 4:30-8:30 p.m. on Friday and noon-6 p.m. on Saturday.

The pumpkin contest is Friday from 4:30-7:30 with judging at 8 p.m.

Entertainment follows at 6 p.m. on Saturday at the Brook Memorial Bandshell off Skidmore and Orchard. The costume contest will be judged then.

Don't miss all of the family fun and activities planned for all ages.

Classical guitarist performs at library

Peter Fletcher will be playing classical guitar on Saturday, Oct. 18 from 1-3 p.m. He has played at several colleges, churches and libraries on the east coast and is touring through Illinois.

Fletcher's latest CD "Suite Compostelana, Canciones y Danzas" was written by 20th century Spanish composer Federico Mompou. Pre-registration is preferred, but not required.

For more information, or to register for an event, call 847-395-0874.

Bank honors 35-year employee

An open house will be held to commemorate the retirement of long-time First National Bank-Employee Owned (FNBO) vice president Carolyn Van Patten on Wednesday, Oct. 22 from 5-8 p.m. at the Antioch location.

Van Patten, who is a mortgage lender in addition to being one of the bank's vice presidents, has been with FNBO for 35 years. During that time, she has worked as a universal teller, a new accounts representative and has held various positions within the loan department.

Friends, colleagues and business associates are invited to join FNBO at the open house.

Van Patten began working for the bank after moving to Antioch from Colorado in 1967. She still resides in Antioch and has two sons and two grandchildren.

The Antioch branch is located at 485 Lake

St. For more information, call Karen Kubin at 847-838-2265.

Village announces trick-or-treat hours

As with years past, trick-or-treating will be held on Halloween, Friday, Oct. 31. Acceptable hours are from 4-7 p.m.

Chamber accepts early holiday lights registration

Holiday lights competition, sponsored by the Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry is nearing "tradition" status, as plans are under way for the fifth annual judging.

The contest is a resident, outdoor Christmas decorating contest with $400 in prizes to be awarded. Judging takes place Dec. 13.

To register, call the chamber at 847-395-2233 any day of the week, any time of the day. Leave a message indicating desire to compete, plus name, address and phone number. Registration will be confirmed with a return phone call.

VFW offers fish fry

Antioch VFW Post 4551 has started having a fish fry on Friday nights from 4-8 p.m.

In addition to cod, perch and shrimp the menu offers burgers and chicken strips. Dinners are served with French fries or a baked potato, in a limited quantity, and coleslaw bread and butter.

Cost varies from about $3-8, depending on the fish or meat.

For more information, call 847-395-5393.

Community band seeks members

Lakes Area Community Band, a 40-member band comprised of musicians from Lake, McHenry & Kenosha counties, is currently seeking musicians high school age and older in all sections. Practices take place on Monday evenings from 7-9 p.m. in the Antioch Community High School band room.

New members are welcome. No auditions are required. For more information, call Debbie Davis at 847-395-0272.

Church offers family fun on Halloween

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Families are invited to join the Chain of Lakes Community Bible Church for its fun night called "Light the Night" on Halloween Friday.

"This will be a wonderful evening of fun," said Susan Cramer, deaconess and member of the hospitality committee. "Everything is free of charge. It's just a good opportunity for families to come together."

Light the Night runs between 7-9 p.m., but Cramer said it's not the type of event that requires arriving or leaving at any specific time.

Activities include live music, a bonfire, hayrides, puppet show, games and food.

Cramer said, "The kids will all get free candy and pony rides. We thought that would be nice to do, because kids love pony rides."

The church will serve hot dogs, hot chocolate, popcorn and cotton candy.

"The band is made up of members of the church," Cramer said. "I'm not sure if it's quite the right classification, but I think their music is bluegrass sounding."

Chain of Lakes Community Bible Church is located at 43 W. Grass Lake Road, just east of Route 83. For more information, call the church at 847-838-0103.

Steve Peterson

Local fans help ease the pain of Cubs loss

The reunion was a brief one, but, in looking back, helped soothe the pain. Just before Game 6 of the National League Championship Series, I had a chance to meet with someone whose baseball team I covered, well, some 15 years ago, back in 1986-87.

He is Dave Carrillo, from Round Lake, attending the Cubs-Marlins game with family members.

"I'm very confident," he shared before the game. We all know what happened later, so no point in adding to the lore, but that optimism was felt by all 40,000 fans in attendance and the hundreds gathered outside Wrigley Field.

At first glance, he remembered me as the reporter who covered his youth league baseball team. The Grayslake-based Mohawks were an all-star caliber squad, coached by Tom Hunt.

Carrillo, who works for Motorola now, graduated from Northern Illinois University and now works at Motorola. He was attending the game with his dad, Jesus.

Carrillo played second base for the Mohawks and later Round Lake High.

A second encounter also helped ease the pain.

A few weeks ago, we documented the season of Jim Batustak, the mayor of Lindenhurst, who also is a Cubs usher. His wife, Jan, was at the game, too, in that capacity.

"Jim had some Cubs flags at the village board meeting last night, and he gave them to the Boy Scouts who said they were Cubs fans," she said.

Also met John Haley, owner of Port O'Blamey's in Antioch, awaiting the opening of the gate to Pro Player Stadium.

Athletes come and go, changing uniforms with the latest big paycheck, but meeting old and new friends, such as the gentleman who helped change my tire on a dark Cincinnati street a few years back, or friendly fans in Atlanta, during a 70-game professional baseball season, will help forget a ruined Tuesday Fish Fry, that turned out instead to be another Brant Brown-Leon Durham debacle in one inning.

On a local level, the "it's yours, now it's not" turn of events recalled a foggy night in March, 1991, when Warren High's tough breaks in the fourth quarter and overtime cost the girls basketball team a chance at state.

A dozen years later, that loss to Evanston still is memorable, but it's the people you meet, good and bad, not the teams, that are important.

Gutcheck time for Sequoits

By JOHN PHELPS
Lakeland Correspondent

With two weeks remaining in the regular season, the Antioch varsity football team is looking to rediscover that winning feeling that had vaulted them off to a 4-1 start. A couple of speed bumps the last two weeks have put a hold on a possible playoff berth, as five wins suggests.

The road doesn't get any easier with a date at North Suburban Lake-leading and unbeaten Libertyville on the tilt for Friday, Oct. 17 beginning at 7:30 p.m.

"They're (Libertyville) a pretty tough team and will be hard to stop," said Sequoit head coach Del Pechauer. "They have an excellent offense with a big offensive line. And I know about that halfback (Santino Panico). We have to try and slow him down. He's pretty darn good."

Pechauer's offense hasn't been too shabby either this year. Behind the running of Nate Hughes, Nick Nathan and Tom Rompella, the Sequoits have been able to move the ball effectively on the ground and should have a chance to stay with Libertyville's high-flying, 30-plus-point scoring offense led by Chris Jansen.

"We'll definitely try and run the ball," Pechauer said. "We'll practice for both running the sweep and running the ball up the middle. We'll see what they (Libertyville) want to defend and basically take what the defense gives us."

The Sequoits will not only have to deal with Jansen and Panico, but running backs Kevin Fontana and John Haas as well.

"They come at you from a bunch of different directions," the coach said. "Defensively, we'll try and shut down the outside because of their speed. Hopefully that will force them to go up the middle."

Antioch's Nate Hughes rumbles in for a touchdown in his team's 56-28 loss to Stevenson. The Sequoits will travel to Libertyville to take on the Cats on Oct. 17 at 7:30 p.m.—Photo by Steve Young Hughes and the Antioch defense did a nice job of containing speedy outside threat Joey Bonadonna last week. Only thing was, the Pats had other weapons step to the forefront. Fullback Mike Becker rumbled for 164 yards and three scores as Stevenson wound up out-slugging the Sequoits 56-28.

Becker's 88-yard dash on the games second play helped set the tone. Hughes, though, answered with a 3-yard score on the ensuing drive but it was all Stevenson from there.

Hughes ended up with 136 yards and three scores of his own.

Safe to say, Antioch and Libertyville both move the ball very well, especially on the ground. Look for good, smash-mouth football on Route 176.

The big key for Antioch will be not if they can score, but how many times they can do it.

"I think we can hang with them," said Pechauer. "It's always a good battle when we play them. The kids have remained upbeat and positive."

McHenry dashes Rams' FVC title hopes

By ROB BACKUS
Sports Editor

Whatever hopes Grayslake had for its first Fox Valley Conference title in school history came to an end Friday night at the hands of McHenry, the proverbial thorn in the side of Grayslake coach Vito Andriola.

Andriola has gone winless against the Warriors both as Rams head coach and assistant coach at Woodstock.

But unlike last year's 42-3 drubbing at the hands of McHenry, this year's Grayslake squad held tough, losing 16-0.

"I told the team that it would take 21 points to beat McHenry," Andriola said. "That ended up being true; we just couldn't get them."

But it wasn't for lack of opportunity.

Trailing 13-0 in the second quarter, Grayslake had marched down the field and had the ball at the McHenry 8-yard line until Drew Gallagher threw a costly pick that cost the Rams their only real scoring chance of the game.

"I thought we would score and get back in the game," Andriola said. "But we came away with nothing."

The Rams did have a few other drives into McHenry territory but penalties cost the team any chances it had to score.

"Every time we got close, there was a penalty," Andriola said. "We just killed ourselves on offense. We made some goofy plays and had some breakdowns."

In all, Grayslake amassed just 169 yards of total offense, most of which came from the legs of Adam Dones (16 carries, 100 yards).

Andriola credits McHenry's defense, but still feels it was the penalties that really set his offense back.

"It was more what we did than what they did," Andriola said.

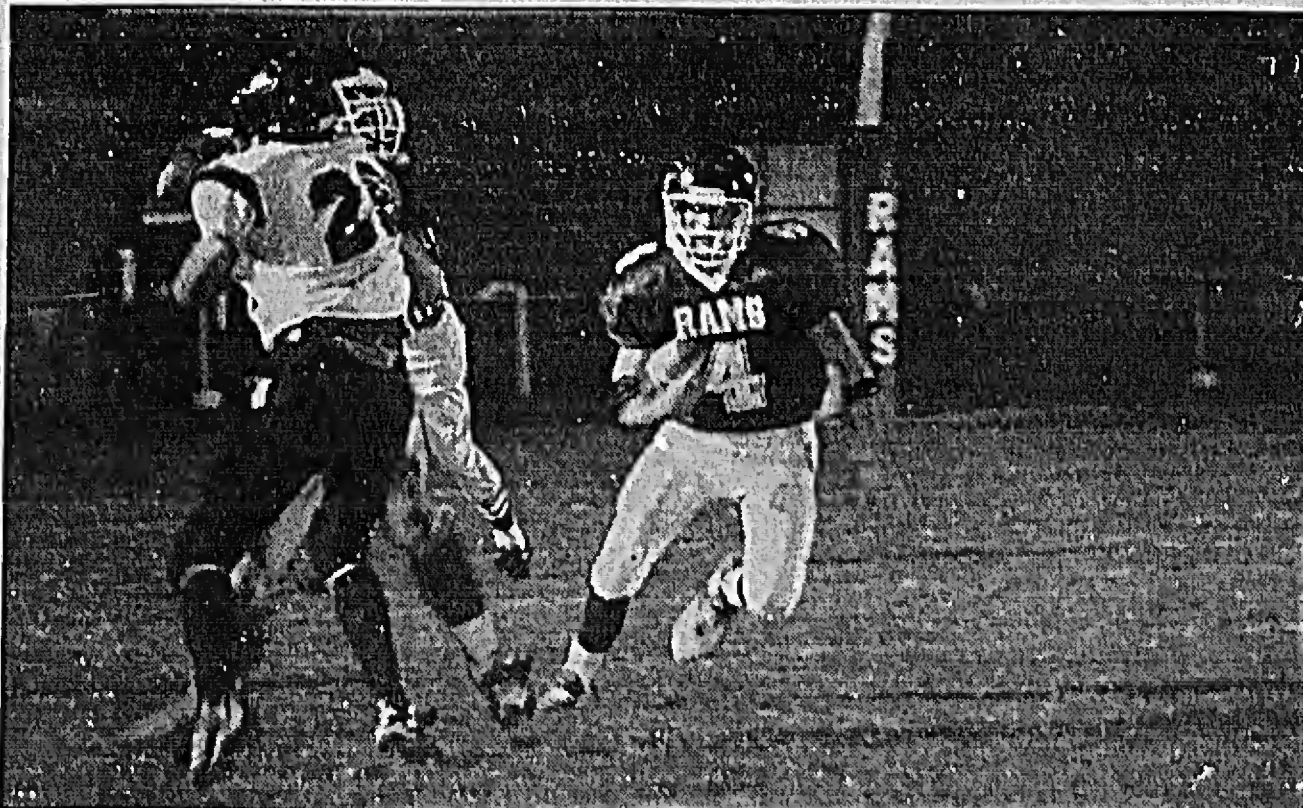

Another thing that cost the Rams was the absence of David Biggs, who missed the game with a sprained medial collateral ligament.

"Because David missed the game, we had to rotate three guys on both sides of the ball," Andriola said. "We do well playing both ways."

One player that has flourished playing Ironman football is Doug Hanson, the leader of the defense.

"Doug did a great job on defense," Andriola said. "And Corey Williams had the best game of his career."

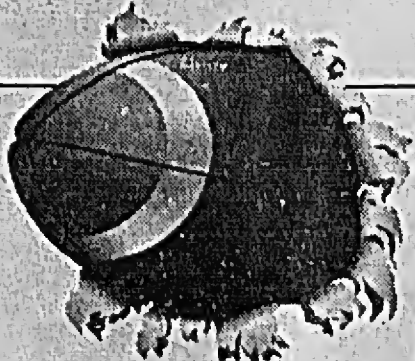

So the Rams (5-2, 4-2) did take some positive things away from the game and will look to bounce back at Crystal Lake Central on Oct. 17 at 7:45 p.m.

VIKINGS FOOTBALL ROUNDUP

The Viking Sunday lightweight squad showed another impressive performance this weekend in a 40-17 Homecoming win over the Warren Blue Demons.

Antioch's defense got off to a slow start allowing a Warren touchdown in the first quarter, but pounded the Blue Demons backwards in the second quarter with defensive linemen Justin Marima and Matt Keller dropping them in the end zone for a safety.

The unstoppable Viking offense picked up the pace from there with Ryan Williams charging in on an outside sweep, then a fumble recovery by Mike Olejniczak on the next set of downs set up a second Williams touchdown in the same quarter.

Antioch quarterback Jason Denikas showed some spark with several pass completions, including a nice 25-yard toss to Derek Watson in the third quarter to put the Vikings into Warren territory.

Bobby Waitr then showed some guts pounding in a touchdown run right up the middle of the Blue Demon defense.

The Vikings' Dan Larsen continued the homecoming fireworks in the fourth quarter, scoring on an 80-yard kick return touchdown to put the game out of reach for Warren.

Second place Antioch plays the final game of the regular season next week against the first place Cary Trojans, with the winner of the game receiving a bye in the first round of the playoffs.

Lindenhurst U-9 Fire kicks competition

The Lindenhurst Fire boys U-9 team followed its 1-1 tie against Johnsbury with two 4-0 victories over the Lincolnshire Lightning and the Mundelein Strikers.

The rematch against the Johnsbury White Lightning was played very similarly to the two clubs first meeting. The Fire, unable to take advantage of several early scoring opportunities was able to keep even with Johnsbury thanks to the goalkeeping of Duncan Amrein.

Amrein's save of a Johnsbury penalty kick seemed to ignite the Fire and again they applied constant pressure on the Johnsbury defense.

A Johnsbury counter attack provided the games first score, when its attack caught the Fire defenders off guard, and its shot rolled past the outstretched arms of Amrein.

Following a substitution, the Fire quickly tied the game when a Jack Arends pass found Wesley Siu in front of the Johnsbury net, Siu's shot rolled under the Johnsbury goalie, where Trevor Ray made certain the ball found the back of the net.

The second half saw much of the same back and forth action, where both teams kept the other from scoring, with the game ending in the 1-1 tie, the second tie between these teams.

The Fire used a quick start against a visiting Lincolnshire Lightning team and found itself up 4-0 at halftime.

Jack Arends scored two first half goals,

Trevor Ray added one and Brandon Brumm connected from just inside of midfield for the fourth Fire goal.

With the 4-0 lead, the Fire's defense took over the second half by only allowing two shots on its goal.

Defenders Ryan Noda, Brian Wercheck, Greg Schellinger and Michael McGrain all played well on defense, while Alex Langbein, Nick Powell, Ramon Marin, Duncan Amrein and Brandon Brumm provided a strong second half attack.

In its final game of the week, the Fire welcomed the Mundelein Strikers to town Saturday.

The Lindenhurst attack hit paydirt when Ryan Noda lifted a shot over the Striker goalie for the games first score.

The second half started with both teams applying downfield pressure, a Striker attack led to a scramble in front of the Fire's goal, Lindenhurst keeper Alex Langbein couldn't grab the initial shot, but quickly found his feet and made a sprawling save that squelched the attack.

A Lindenhurst counter attack led to a shot by Michael McGrain, the loose ball was knocked in by Nick Powell to make the score 3-0. Trevor Ray concluded the scoring when his shot from on top of the box flew by the Striker goalie in the waning minutes of the game.

The Fire heads next to Lake Forest with a game against the Lake Forest United.

Stingrays swim circles around opposition

FANTASY FOOTBALL MONTHLY 2003
(Touchdowns Only!!!)

Fantasy Football season is here again! For many Lakeland readers, the very thought sends their hearts racing. But for others, the question may be, "What is fantasy football?"

One of the most popular games across the country, fantasy football comes in many different forms, with each allowing football fans to draft their "own" team every Sunday afternoon and/or Monday/Thursday night.

Lakeland Newspapers began their league 3 years ago. This year the following rules apply: readers must pick one quarterback, two running backs and two wide receivers and a tightend. Lakeland Newspapers Fantasy Football Monthly counts only touchdowns.

Your team is good for one month and one month only. Entries must be post marked by the last day of the previous month in order to enter the next month's contest. For example, October 31 is the last day to enter the November contest. You must re-enter each month. After the last game of the month is played, the total amount of touchdowns scored by your six players is counted and whichever reader has the most total touchdowns wins. In the event of a tie, Lakeland will count the touchdowns of the candidate's "write-in" players. One entry per person. Winner will be mailed a check for $100.

Lakeland Newspapers will publish a fantasy football column each week tips and player news. Don't forget that schedule plays a big role in which players choose. Just because someone may be the league's best player, does not necessarily mean that they will be the best player that month. And don't forget the bye weeks.

Good luck and get those entries in.

Homeowners are butts of Halloween lawn display

By BRENDA BALIN-BEITSCHER
Staff Reporter

All the howling on Elderberry Lane is not coming from ghoulies and ghosties. It is coming from members of the Oakland Ridge Homeowner's Association (ORHOA) who are upset about a neighbor's very pictorial statement.

ORHOA member Shari Buchholz used her Halloween lawn decorations as an opportunity to make a point, raising bad spirits as a result.

Among the "headstones" in Buchholz' "graveyard" is one which reads "ORHOA—kiss my a—."

Lake Villa Police were called out to investigate the display, after ORHOA president Eric Bose complained about the "obscenity" on Buchholz' lawn.

Buchholz, who told police she had checked with her lawyer before creating the display, said it was her First Amendment right to make her statement.

The officer, not prepared to make an on-the-spot ruling, said the matter needed "more research" to determine if it is covered by any statutes, but suggested the offending word should be covered up, as it might be inappropriate for children to see it.

Buchholz covered the word with plastic buttocks.

"I'm still a member of the homeowners association," she said, insisting she is not targeting anyone specifically.

Buchholz and the association have apparently "buted" heads in the past over a number of issues.

Although Bose made no formal complaint, he said a number of members had expressed displeasure with the display.

Bose characterized Buchholz as "a person who always thinks she is right," while Buchholz characterized the homeowners' association as "trying to control everything."

"I just wanted to get them back down to earth," she said.

Rowe registered by Municipal Clerks of Illinois

Candi Rowe, village clerk, fulfilled all the requirements necessary to become a registered municipal clerk through the Municipal Clerks of Illinois (MCI).

The board of directors of the village of Antioch recognized Rowe's achievement at its regular board meeting, and presented her with the plaque sent by MCI.

Trustee Scott Pierce made the presentation and said, "Candi has been doing a wonderful job and it shows. At the Illinois Municipal League Conference she was making a good showing for the village in with the other municipal clerks."

In a letter to Rowe, Donna McAllister, coordinator of the registered clerks program, said, "Your achievement of the registered clerk status is confirmation of your commitment to professional education and your willingness to continue to update your knowledge and skills in an effort to better serve your community. In that regard, the village board and the citizens of Antioch should be very pleased that you have 'gone the extra mile' to receive this designation."

'Live' from Lake County

Regis and Kelly tape their national show in our backyard

By SONJA SCHNEIDER
Staff Reporter

It was a homecoming, of sorts, for a producer of a national syndicated morning talk show.

'Live with Regis and Kelly' taped two shows Monday at the Ravinia Festival in Highland Park. The duo, while visiting Chicago, treated Lake County residents to a slew of area celebrities.

Regis Philbin and Kelly Ripa took the stage before an excited and standing audience at 8 a.m. They opened the show with the traditional newspaper headlines and congratulated the Cubs even though they are partial to the New York Yankees. Kelly did express she wouldn't be upset if the Cubs won the World Series.

Their first guest, actor Gary Sinise who also co-founded the Steppenwolf Theater Company, surprised the audience. Sinise, a graduate of Highland Park High School, worked at Ravinia during his teenage years as a gardener.

He told a story to the eager audience about how he used to steal boxes of toilet paper and paper towels, throw them over the back fence. When he was off work he drove his car to the fence and picked up the products to take to his theater company.

As a gag, Sinise brought out a cart full of paper products with the Steppenwolf symbol stamped on them. The police escorted him off stage at the end of the interview.

Scottie Pippen shot a few hoops with Regis and Kelly making two out of three shots.

Pippen was followed by actress Jessica Biel who stars in the hit sitcom "Seventh Heaven." Biel promoted her upcoming movie "The Texas Chainsaw Massacre," to open Oct. 17. During the interview, Regis tried to scare the young beauty by taking his handy chainsaw out on stage.

To close the show with a musical talent, Lou Rawls sang a remake of Frank Sinatra's, "My Kind of Town" from his new CD "Rawls Sings Sinatra."

Behind the scenes and during commercial breaks, audience members had a chance to talk to Kelly and Regis. Most questions were directed to Kelly to find out whose shoes she was wearing. Of course the answer was Jimmy Choo, who else?

It didn't seem to bother Kelly that, during her moments off air, her hair stylist

UW-Parkside conference debates extraterrestrial life Oct. 25

For centuries, people have debated whether worlds like ours exist within and beyond our solar system. The University of Wisconsin-Parkside continues the dialog Saturday, Oct. 25, when a panel of internationally known researchers addresses "God, Man, and E.T.: The Question of Other Worlds in Science, Theology, and Mythology."

The Parkside Adult Student Association (PASA) hosts this one-day conference.

The conference features Richard C. Hoagland, a leading authority on the possibility of extraterrestrial life in our solar system and author of the best seller "The Monuments of Mars," a chronicle of his research now in its fifth edition. Hoagland was the first to propose there might be life on Jupiter's moon Europa beneath ice-covered oceans. NASA's recent decision to destroy its Galileo space probe in Jupiter's atmosphere rather than crashing the potentially contaminated craft on Europa in order to "protect possible lifeforms in Europa's oceans" was a direct result of Hoagland's research.

Hoagland's presentation is entitled "The Gods of Cydonia: The Case for Ancient Artificial Structures in the Solar System."

Another Cydonia expert, David Flynn, addresses "The Mars/Earth Connection: Cydonia in Ancient Science and Mythology."

Flynn, an acknowledged expert on Cydonia/Mars anomalies within the Christian community, recently published the book "Cydonia and the Mysteries of Mars."

Doctors Hugh Ross and Paul Nelson address the possibility—or probability—of extraterrestrial life. Dr. Ross, who has a doctorate in astronomy from Toronto University and researched quasars, the most distant and ancient objects in the universe, at Caltech, is a leading figure in the intelligent design movement. He wrote the book "Lights in the Sky and Little Green Men: A Rational Christian Look at UFOs and Extraterrestrials," and he will address the subject "Does ET Have a Home? The Probability for Life's Existence Elsewhere in the Universe."

Dr. Nelson's presentation is "If ET Called, How Would We Know It?" A graduate of the University of Chicago and a fellow with the Discovery Institute in Seattle, Wash., Dr. Nelson has published chapters in the anthologies Mere Creation, Signs of Intelligence, and Intelligent Design Creationism and Its Critics. His monograph, "On Common Descent," evaluates the theory of common descent in evolution, and is being edited for the University of Chicago's series Evolutionary Monographs.

This exceptional panel includes UW-Madison doctoral candidate Michael Heiser. Heiser is a frequent lecturer on ancient history and biblical studies, specializing in critical evaluation of the belief that references to UFOs and aliens are found in ancient texts, including the Bible. His presentation is titled "No Room at the Inn? Can the Judeo-Christian Worldview Accommodate an Intelligent ET Reality?"

The conference will include a panel discussion and an audience question and answers session. The program begins at 8 a.m. and seating is limited to about 200. Cost is $20 for UW-Parkside students, faculty, and staff; $25 for all other attendees. Admission includes lunch and dinner.

For more information or to register, call PASA at (262) 595-2200.

Off-Square Music presents 'Mustard's Retreat' and 'Mackie Redd'

Mustard's Retreat

Mackie Redd

In concert on October 18th at 8 p.m. two great folk performances in one evening! "Mustard's Retreat" and "Mackie Redd" at the Unitarian Church, 221 Dean St., Woodstock, IL.

Mustard's Retreat is David Tamulevich & Michael Hough, who have performed together since 1974. A Mustard's Retreat musical landscape from gentle love songs and vivid ballads to American traditional songs, even a few tall tales. The duo is accompanied by guitar, electric bass, dulcimer, harmonica and penny whistle.

Mustard's Retreat has made frequent appearances on NPR's, "The Flea Market," and prestigious festivals throughout the U.S., including the Philadelphia Folk Festival, the Boston Folk Festival, Kerrville Folk Festival and The Kate Wolf Festival.

Mackie Redd, singer, songwriter, acoustic guitarist from the heartland of the country, has established himself as a performer worthy of being heard. He combines song with story to paint a picture most people have seen in their own lives; or are sure to. Mackie's songs have been showcased at the Blue Bird Café in Nashville, Tenn. and at the Walnut Valley Festival in Winfield, Kan. He has opened or shared the stage with Cozy Sheridan, Bill Morrissey, David Massengill and Kay Moffitt. Check Mackie's web page: www.mackieredd.com

Admission $10. Doors open at 7:30 p.m. For reservations/information call 815-338-5164 or e-mail blueloom@mc.net or visit off-squaremusic.org.

Little engine that could finally did

They were actually kids in a candy store trying to pass themselves off as grown-ups, but the train engineer caps were a dead giveaway. This wasn't your usual garden party. It was an open house hosted by two members of the Chicago Area Garden Railway Society (CAGRS), Deanna and Arnold Einbinder of Mundelein.

Arnie is a pharmacist and Dee writes historical fiction (find her compelling western, "Cottonwood", at Barnes & Noble and Amazon.com). That's only their cover for the operation they run out of their backyard.

No, we're not talking about some illicit activity you'd find on the wrong side of the tracks. We're talking JUST tracks, and lots of 'em.

These folks are into outdoor model railroading in a big way. Thanks to Dee, Clint Eastwood could shoot an entire western here. The Einbinders' miniature railroad rolls past Indians attacking a stagecoach, a cattle drive, a desert strewn with bones and a thriving western town with a working sawmill, saloon, hang man with scaffold and waiting client, even a boot hill cemetery next to the undertaker's. There's also a period ship off-loading supplies in the harbor. Just don't get too close to the water or you'll come nose-to-nose with one of Dee's "eatin' size" carp.

It's Arnie who keeps the wheels in motion in this private wonderland. He concentrates on very "serious" business like keeping those trains whizzing over trestles, through tunnels and past waterfalls and appreciative onlookers in lawn chairs. While he stayed busy, I ran across other CAGRS with pictures of their own magical worlds.

Terry Derenski told hubby Bob to get his train out from underfoot in 1991. So he took it outside and recreated the Colorado River in 22 feet of backdrop

LES

Leslie Glazier-Werner

where 2500 gallons of water per hour simulates the rapids. Bob's love of model railroading became a retirement business, Bob's RRR Hobbies in Vernon Hills. He says he can help you launch your own railroad with a starter set for about $300.

Other CAGRS described railroading themes as diverse as their backgrounds. Ronald Messner's creation in Jefferson Park lets him join his own version of Barnum & Bailey simply by running his circus train out the basement window.

Bill and Jan Drevline admit to leaving Las Vegas - and Hollywood - as their scenery of choice back home in Arlington Heights.

Norwood Park's Donald Rustmeyer and Mom Shirley are CAGRS you may know, thanks to a recent visit by Harry Porterfield of ABC7 News. Their six trains echo the heyday of Chicago railroading.

If you're interested in viewing some current CAGRS handiwork, head out to see the Junior Railroad Exhibit now through Oct. 26 at the Chicago Botanic Garden in Glencoe. Twelve trains roll past more than 20 historic landmarks crafted of all natural materials.

The CAGRS really are a friendly group of oversized kids and they always welcome new members. Conduct yourself to www.cagrs.com and join in the adventure. All aboard!

SPECIAL EVENT

Larel Rinehart and Katie Stark rehearse a scene from The Elves and the Shoemaker.

'The Elves and the Shoemaker'

Northbrook Musical Theatre for Young Audiences brings an original adaptation to life when it stages the Brothers Grimm fairy tale, "The Elves and the Shoemaker" on Saturdays, Oct. 18-Nov. 15 at 10:30 a.m. and 1 p.m., the theatre located is at 3323 Walters Avenue in Northbrook.

"The Elves and the Shoemaker," performed by Northbrook Theatre's resident professional company of eight actors, tells the story of a down-on-his-luck shoemaker who is helped to find success by a pair of talented elves. Told in song, dance and dialogue, the musical teaches the value of believing in oneself and the importance of cooperation.

This new adaptation was written by Northbrook Theatre Artistic Director, Gregory C. Dennhardt with music by Lori Norton.

"Meet the Characters" lunch/theatre packages are available on the first, fourth and final weekend performances of the show. Weekday performances on Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays during the run of the show are available by arrangement for schools and similar groups at discount prices. Regular Saturday shows are priced at $7 (paid-in-advance) and $8 (day-of performance). All seats are reserved.

"The Elves and the Shoemaker" is the first show in the Northbrook Musical Theatre for Young Audience's season. It is followed by "King Midas and the Golden Touch" in January and "Alice in Wonderland" in April.

The "The Elves and the Shoemaker" is partially sponsored by a grant from the Illinois Arts Council.

For information or to purchase tickets, call the box office at 847-291-2367.

Music

Klezfest

The Chicago Klezmer Ensemble will perform original and contemporary Eastern European Jewish folk music of the early 20th century in a concert at the College of Lake County (at 4 p.m. on Sunday, Oct. 19) Studio Theatre.

Highly regarded for performing expressive music in a unique style, the Chicago Klezmer Ensemble has been active since 1984. The five-member group is led by clarinetist Kurt Bjorling.

Known for its elegant and knowledgeable approach, Chicago Klezmer Ensemble creates a balance between past and present by performing the music in an authentic manner and extending the style through new ideas and compositions.

Tickets are $20 for the general public; $19 for CLC students, staff, active alumni association members and seniors age 65 and over; and $12 for children under age 12. The program is funded in part by a grant from the Illinois Arts Council.

For tickets or more information, call 847-543-2300.

Fund-Raisers

Beautiful music

An evening of live music is coming to Lake County on Saturday, Oct. 25. A benefit concert for Festival Arts of Antioch, the evening's event will be "An Encore Performance from Hollywood—Lloyd Pedersen and Daybreak in Concert."

The event will be held at Maravel's Banquet Hall, 4 Washington St., corner of Washington Street and Grand Avenue, in Fox Lake. An Italian buffet dinner will be served from 6 to 7:30 p.m. and the concert begins at 8 p.m. A cash bar will be open throughout the evening.

Lloyd Pedersen, originally from Antioch, will sing a variety of tunes with assistance from Daybreak, his backup group of local singers. The Lakes Area Swing Band will back the entire concert and guest vocalists and musicians will also take part. A dance floor will be open all evening.

Proceeds from the event will benefit Festival Arts of Antioch and help to support the Antioch Community Choir, the Lakes Area Community Band and other cultural activities.

Tickets are $30 each for dinner and the concert. For tickets or more information, call Mabel Lou Weber at 847-265-3152 or Betty Smouse at 847-395-1333. The deadline for ticket purchase is Monday, Oct. 20.

Putting on the glitz

Save-A-Pet, a not-for-profit, no-kill animal shelter, located at 31664 N. Fairfield Rd in Grayslake, is hosting its 1st Annual "Holiday Glitz" Fashion Show & Silent Auction on Sunday, Nov. 2, from noon to 4 p.m.

The event will take place at the Old Orchard Country Club, 700 West Rand in Mount Prospect and will feature fashions by Talbot's in Deer Park. A silent auction will take place from noon to 2:30 p.m. Lunch will be at 1 p.m. and the show is at 2:30 p.m. There will also be a door prize and raffles. Join in celebrating the upcoming holiday season early and know that you are also helping the feline and canine residents of Save-A-Pet.

Tickets are available now at the shelter for $30, lunch included, but cash bar. Contact Laurie Brown, 847-740-7788 ext. 103 or leave a message on the events line at 847-740-7788, ext. # 146. Or visit the website at www.save-a-pet-il.org. Purchase your tickets by Oct. 19.

All proceeds will benefit the homeless cats and dogs at Save-A-Pet. Save-A-Pet's mission is to provide the animals shelter indefinitely and to never euthanize, except in cases of terminal illness, unrelievable pain and suffering or dangerous and irreversible behavior problems. Save-A-Pet strives to enhance both awareness of and support for the humane treatment of animals.

Workshop

Get it together, again

If you never got around to spring cleaning, or were too busy in the summer to get the house organized, you still have time before winter sets in. Why hibernate in a cluttered cave?

In a one-hour presentation, Jim O'Connor will provide ideas for the efficient use of your storage areas and living space, and will answer questions.

The second of a two workshop series scheduled for October at the Gorton Community Center in Lake Forest is, "Making Spaces: Organize Your Home for Indoor Living." The workshop will take place on Wednesday, Oct. 29, from 10 to 11 a.m. Gorton Community Center, located at 400 East Illinois Road, Lake Forest. The cost is $18.

Interested participants should register and pay in advance. For further information, or to receive a program booklet, call 847-234-6060, visit the website at www.gortoncenter.org, or stop by the Gorton office between 9 a.m. and 4:30 p.m., weekdays.

Events

Fall into books

Friends of the Mt. Prospect Library will sponsor their fall used book sale on Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 18-19, at the interim library, 852 Feehanville Dr. in Mt. Prospect.

Sale hours will be 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. on Saturday and 12 - 4:30 p.m. on Sunday. Admission is free.

Summer donations have been strong and there is a wide variety of items to select from including books on tapes, CDs, videos, vinyl records, software, magazines and, of course, many books.

The usual members-only sale will be on Friday, Oct. 17 from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. Membership renewals and applications are available any time during the sale or at the library.

For details or directions, call 847-253-5675.

Tales of the trail

Experience the McHenry County Conservation District's annual Trail of History on Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 18-19 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at Glacial Park in Ringwood. Admission gates close at 3:30 p.m. each day to allow visitors time to make the one-mile walk to the encampment site.

The Trail of History is a portrayal of life as it was from 1670 to 1850 in the former Northwest Territory. This fun and educational living history re-enactment features interpreters from across the country demonstrating trades and crafts common in the early settler days.

Cost is $5 for adults, $2 for ages 6-12 and senior citizens. Children age 5 and under are admitted free. Discount advance tickets for groups of ten or more for Saturday only are available for a limited time.

Glacial Park is located on Harts Rd., seven miles north of McHenry off of Route 31. For more details, call 815-338-6223 or visit www.mccdistrict.org.

Bring on the chills

PM&L theatre is presenting another Reader's Theatre afternoon at the theatre, 877 Main St. in Antioch, on Oct. 19 at 2:30 p.m. Sally Roberts of Antioch will direct two short stories in the Reader's Theatre format, "The Open Window," by Saki, a humorous story with a touch of the supernatural, and "The Monkey's Paw," by W.W. Jacobs, a story to send chills through you.

Actors are Chris and Karl Keilgeist of Salem, Wis.; Kevin Carr of Lindenhurst and Gene LeFave, Reggie Reynolds and Sally Roberts, all of Antioch.

The performance lasts approximately one hour, is free of charge and no reservations are needed.

The subject matter of both works is very appropriate to the Halloween season now upon us. For more details, call 847-395-6719.

Slam jam

Interested poets and literary enthusiasts are invited to the College of Lake County's poetry slam on Wednesday, Oct. 22. Two sessions will be offered, 1 - 3:30 p.m. and 7 - 9:30 p.m. in the Learning Resource Center Atrium on the Grayslake campus.

The master of ceremonies will be Tim Joyce, a Chicago writer and popular entertainer. The event is sponsored by the CLC Literary Arts Club.

For more information, call 847-223-0398.

Check your pockets

The Indian Hill Coin Club will host a Coin Show on Sunday, Oct. 26, at the Gurnee American Legion Post 771 from 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. Dealers will buy, sell and trade U.S. and foreign coins, tokens, paper currency, sports cards and other collectibles.

Admission is free and everyone is invited to attend. The American Legion Post is located at 749 N. Milwaukee Avenue and Grand Avenue, one block east of Route 21 in Gurnee. Call 847-872-7583.

Volunteers wanted

Be a hero

Volunteers for The Lake County Council Against Sexual Assault (LaCASA) represent the best in human nature with heroism, compassion and dedication to advocating for the rights of others. If these terms describe you and you're looking to make a difference in the world, then you should consider training to become a volunteer advocate in LaCASA's fight against sexual assault.

LaCASA needs volunteers, age 18 and older, from across Lake County to provide crisis intervention services over the telephone, in emergency rooms, as court advocates and to assist with prevention education in Lake County schools.

Located at 4275 Grand Avenue in Gurnee, LaCASA is currently accepting applications for its 40-hour Fall Volunteer Training Session, from Nov. 4 through Dec. 6. The sessions will be held on Tuesday and Thursday nights from 6 - 10 p.m. and on Saturdays beginning at 9 a.m.

If you are interested in a rewarding volunteer experience or want to learn more, call Deirdre Simpson-Rhoads at 847-244-1187, ext. 20. You may

The Marriage of Figaro

The Marriage of Figaro, by Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart will be presented in Italian, with projected English titles, by Lyric Opera on Oct. 17, Oct. 21, Oct. 26. Come and enjoy this classic comedy that proves that the road to wedded bliss is anything but smooth.

Just ask Figaro, that valiant valet of Seville, who's got the philandering Count after his fiancée, and an older woman claiming she should be the bride.

Be there as a whole host of lovers and a long-lost mother bewitch us all in one of the great comedic masterworks of all time. Lyric's peerless record of presenting the reigning Figaro of the day continues. Ramey, Terfel, and now La Scala star Ildebrando D'Arcangelo - accompanied by Canada's newest gift to opera, Isabel Bayrakdarian; Sweden's renowned Peter Mattei; America's extravagantly talented Ruth Ann Swenson in her role debut and Sir Andrew Davis on the podium.

For more information call 312-332-2244 or visit online at www.lyric-opera.org.

Patrons with Disabilities: The Civic Opera House is accessible to physically disabled persons. Contact Lyric for information on wheelchair seating, assisted listening systems, high-powered opera glasses for the visually impaired or other accommodations—312-332-2244, ext. 5600, or TDD 312-332-0249.

All evening performances begin at 7:30 p.m. at the Civic Opera House at Madison and Wacker in Chicago.

Casts are subject to change.

AT LAKE FOREST HOSPITAL we look at every mammogram twice.

We know a mammogram isn't your favorite experience, so it's important to you that the evaluation be as accurate as possible. Perhaps you'd even like a second opinion. So would we. That's why the radiologists at Lake Forest Hospital subject every mammogram to a Second Look.™

Second Look is a sophisticated computer-aided mammography screening tool that enhances diagnostic reliability. Second Look is just part of the thorough, thoughtful way we do mammograms at our Breast Care Center in Lake Bluff and at our Medical Buildings in Gurnee and Vernon Hills. Call (847) 535-6133 for information about our Breast Care Center nearest you, or call (847) 535-6171 for a physician referral.

opening this week

Mystic River—Fine cinematic storytelling examines the nature of those secrets of the soul that can't be denied or buried, regardless of how careful we are to cover them over with the veneer of everyday life. Clint Eastwood directs Sean Penn, Tim Robbins, Kevin Bacon, Marcia Gay Harden, Laura Linney, and Laurence Fishburne. Think Oscar on this one. (R) ★★★★★

Veronica Guerlin—Based on a true story, Cate Blanchett is a tenacious Irish investigative reporter, whose exposure of drug kingpins led to her assassination in 1996. This outraged the nation and ultimately led to a crackdown by the Irish government on these criminals. Cate Blanchett, Joel Schumacher. (R) ★★½

My life has been a dream, now I'm waking up

Ann (Sarah Polley) is a 23-year-old married mother of two young girls, who learns that she has a fatal tumor that will run its course in two to three months. At 23 no one is prepared to plan the future of their spouse and children without them.

So normal, her life so ordinary, you are quickly caught up in Ann's dilemma. You have a sense of understanding each character. You pull for all of them, even though they have different agendas, which in some cases conflict with one another. Ann's husband Don (Scott Speedman) is a supportive, happy-go-lucky, responsible father. They live in a trailer in her mother's backyard, and we soon learn why Mom (Deborah Harry) and Ann have a strained relationship. Mom is in a permanent funk because her husband, Ann's dad is in jail and she's stuck in her lost dreams and seems unable to get on with her life and change the things she can.

Don thinks that the reason Ann fainted recently is because she might be pregnant. When she learns that her life is nearly over, Ann decides not to "burden" her husband, children and mother with caring for her over the next few months.

Ann first sees Lee (Mark Ruffalo) in a café, as she works on her list of "Things to Do Before I Die." At the laundromat Ann runs into Lee again, and he gives her a book with his phone number on the inside cover. She calls him; after all, she wants to return the book. While Ann is looking for "something" from another man, Lee is trying to get over a busted relationship with another woman. This adulterous affair is not about lust but wanting to live a full life when there is not enough time to work things out.

An entertaining though sobering film, "My Life Without Me" makes us aware that we walk a fine line between the routine and the devastating, constantly. Ann, with a determined strength, chooses to stand alone in the wake of the tidal wave that has struck her life.

Getback

On July 1, 1981 the murder of four people, that rivaled the gruesome Sharon Tate slaughter of 1969, occurred at 8763 Wonderland in Los Angeles. One of the two chief suspects was legendary porn star John Holmes (Val Kilmer), whose claim to fame was that he used his well-endowed lower anatomy to star in more than 1,000 porn films. After his movie career ended, Holmes survived by selling drugs to other underbelly types like himself.

Using "point of view" flashbacks from John and David Lind (a wonderfully unrecognizable Dylan McDermott "The Practice"), the two give police their own versions, of who set up and executed the crime. Pointing the finger at each other, John accuses David, saying he was jealous of John and he wanted retribution for the death of his lover. David names John as the killer, claiming his motive was getback revenge because he was angry at Ron Launius (Josh Lucas) for not cutting him his fair share in a big stakes robbery of scum bag club owner Eddle Nash (Eric Bogosian).

Photographed in a grainy style, with plenty of grit and the feel of a documentary, with a twist of "Law & Order" investigative storytelling, detectives interrogate John and David. This allows us to see what each describes played out before us, and to judge for ourselves who is telling the truth. That is, assuming both are not lying.

Remarkable acting performances allow the story to unfold and determine who did what and why. Dawn Schiller (Kate Bosworth) is John's teenage girlfriend, and in this role Bosworth ensures she won't get typecast as a "cute innocent," (as in "Blue Crush"). John loves both Dawn and his estranged wife Sharon (Lisa Kudrow), who is attractive but unglamorous and lets him know when enough is really enough.

Many horrific and unpleasant things are portrayed in the film but you could say this true story does have some positive outcomes. Although one of the evil doers gets off with an unforgivably short prison term, another pays with his life 3/4 dying a slow death. Sharon and Dawn managed to be the better for their experiences and in real life, to this day, are good friends. Dealing with the perverse side of life, "Wonderland," nevertheless, is a wonderful movie about people who are anything but that.

Good Boy!

By George O. Singleton

In Chicago recently to promote the family oriented film "Good Boy!" young actor Liam Aiken and director John Hoffman spoke with me about their new comedy. The film is about dogs from outer space, whose journey to colonize Earth fails, and they are pets rather than leaders. Definitely a movie for kids who love dogs.

John Hoffman: I'm glad you noticed that. Our technical staff used all the latest techniques to deliver a picture that was realistic yet had a touch of fantasy. We're very pleased with the outcome and really hope people will like it.

GS: Liam, you've been in supporting roles in films such as "I Dreamed of Africa," "Sweet November" and "Road to Perdition." How did they prepare you for your first lead acting role?

Liam Aiken: Not really that much. Those roles were so different than this one.

GS: John, there are some heavy social undertones about equality. Where did that come from and what message do you want audiences to receive?

JH: While we wanted the movie to be fun and entertaining, we also were aiming at giving them something to think about. It's a very diverse movie. How we act, how we treat other people and how we are treated matters with respect to our mental well being and overall happiness.

GS: Liam, how difficult is it for a child actor to find roles that fit where you are in real life so you don't get typecast? For example, Haley Joel Osment in "Secondhand Lions" is very different from his role in "A.I." in that he's a teen versus a kid.

LA: It's not that hard if you have a good agent and I do.

GS: John, this film screened for the press at an art house theater, The Gene Siskel Film Center. Is the plan for it to open in limited release first and then more broadly?

JH: Oh no, this will open very wide, on more than 3,000 screens. We are looking for this to reach a lot of people.

"Good Boy!" is a film that any kid, who wants to have, or has, a dog, will enjoy. Adults, too.

Can you find a jury of your peers?

In the latest John Grisham courtroom novel brought to the big screen, "Runaway Jury," we are introduced to a caseload of colorful characters.

Set against the sultry, anything goes atmosphere of New Orleans' French Quarter, four people are determined to influence, at any cost, the outcome of a sensational murder trial. Rankin Fitch (Hackman) is a high-paid, ruthless jury consultant, hired by an unscrupulous gun manufacturer who is being sued by the widow of a man killed by one of their weapons. Fitch will go to any extreme to stack the jury in his client's favor. He firmly believes that verdicts are too important to be simply left to juries.

Wendall Rohr (Hoffman) represents the widow and her young son. An honest, likeable trial lawyer with an earnest belief in the jury system, Rohr nonetheless hires a jury consultant of his own. He has neither the desire nor the deep pockets to sway the jurors beyond his legal limits - at least not at first.

John Cusack brings his usual fine talent and charm to the role of Nick Easter, an affable though mysterious juror who seems to have no life history prior to arriving in New Orleans six months ago. This bit of dirt is unearthed by Fitch's operatives as they dig for info on each juror, to be used as leverage, if necessary.

Squaring off against this group is a mysterious young woman known as Marlee (Rachel Weisz), who appears to hold the strings to manipulate the jury in whichever direction she chooses. More precisely, she's holding the jury's verdict for ransom to the highest bidder. Obviously, she has inside information.

Director Gary Fleder ("Don't Say a Word," "Kiss the Girls," and the twisted comedy "Things To Do In Denver When You're Dead") allows this story to play out against the shadowy interiors of a crowded, sweltering courtroom and a cluttered apartment and along the narrow streets of New Orleans. He uses a kind of shorthand for "character development" of various jury members. You will recognize several familiar faces, and I found myself filling in the blanks on their personalities and sympathizing with those whose secrets are revealed. It's not unlike the methods used by jury consultants.

Joffrey Ballet's 'Romeo and Juliet' a dynamic, enchanting revival

CRITICS CHOICE
By Tom Witom

Shakespeare's "Romeo and Juliet," a classic love tragedy, has pleased traditional theater-goers for generations.

In the hands of the Joffrey Ballet of Chicago, "Romeo and Juliet" is equally magnificent. Its production was developed by John Cranko and premiered in 1962 by Cranko's Stuttgart Ballet company. In 1984, Joffrey Ballet was the first American company to give it a whirl.

Last performed by Joffrey Ballet in 1991 in New York, it's making a welcome return at the newly refurbished Auditorium Theatre in Chicago. Like the freshly gilded ornamentation on the ceiling, this production, directed by Gerald Arpino, sparkles.

The creative choreography - staged by Georgette Tsingirides, ballet mistress of the Stuttgart Ballet and a member of the original cast - is a visual feast, one that pays meticulous attention to the smallest details during the three-act show.

The score by Sergei Prokofiev, beautifully rendered by the Joffrey Ballet of Chicago Orchestra (formerly the Chicago Sinfonietta), offers pure enchantment. Jurgen Rose gets credit for the lavish costumes and handsome sets.

Opening night leads Maia Wilkins and Willy Shives, as the star-crossed lovers from the opposing Capulet and Montague families, were breathtaking to watch. Wilkins' girlish Juliet was at times playful and her movements were always fluid and graceful. Shives' strong Romeo demonstrated athletic agility and emotional sensitivity - whether he was climbing a balcony, engaged in a sword fight or overcome by the loss of his lover.

John Gluckman's Mercutio and Michael Levine's Tybalt added strong support.

This "Romeo and Juliet" will steal your heart. See it through Oct. 19. Ticket information is available at www.joffrey.com

Ballerina Maia Wilkins immerses herself in the lead role of Joffrey Ballet's "Romeo and Juliet."

HOROSCOPE

ARIES - March 21/April 20

Ok Aries, it's time to put your money where your mouth is. You've been such a big talker for the past few days, but now it's time to ante up.

TAURUS - April 21/May 21

Let your heart sit in the driver's seat this week, Taurus, and it will take you on a wild ride. The more conspicuous you are, the less likely you'll get what you're after.

GEMINI - May 22/June 21

Stay focused this week, as you have a big project ahead of you. Your approach this week will appeal to those who know where you're coming from.

CANCER - June 22/July 22

There's a lot to be said for being relaxed and easygoing, but right now you'd prefer it if things were more exciting. Even if you end up dancing alone, you keep the beat better than usual.

LEO - July 23/August 23

The world is yours for the taking, but it would be nice if you asked first. There's a hard way and an easy way—make it as painless as possible. Pisces can offer advice.

VIRGO - Aug 24/Sept 22

The work week ends on a slightly crazy note, which sets you apart from all of your friends and coworkers who are ready to party. Just be careful that you don't miss something important.

LIBRA - Sept 23/Oct 23

There's no need to hide your unique qualities. This is a time to celebrate your individuality. The sooner you learn to accept the powers you possess, the sooner you can move on.

SCORPIO - Oct 24/Nov 22

Your fuse is much shorter than you'd like right now. No one is intentionally trying to anger you. Take as many deep breaths as you need in order to calm yourself down.

SAGITTARIUS - Nov 23/Dec 21

The chains that have been holding you back are about to give. If you struggle hard enough, you will finally be able to break away. Take a close friend along for support. Cancer is a good choice.

CAPRICORN - Dec 22/Jan 20

It's in your best interest to keep everything low-key right now, Capricorn. Discretion or even secrecy is required. Others are more likely to forgive a white lie after the fact.

AQUARIUS - Jan 21/Feb 18

You're especially good at guessing games today, but there may be an unexpected twist. Don't be surprised if you're put in charge of making the plans for this weekend.

PISCES - Feb 19/March 20

All the excitement has worn you out more than you care to admit. Hide your head in the sand until you're ready for the next round. It is closer than you think.

was brushing her blond locks and her beautiful kept powder on her nose.

Michael Gelman, the show's executive producer, also grew up in Highland Park and attended Highland Park High School. He was pleased to get back to his roots.

Gelman, well known for his audience warm-ups, giving compliments to Regis and Kelly and taking light teasing, studied theater, directed plays and learned stage-production techniques when he was in high school. He took over the reins of the show in 1987. He and the staff have been Emmy-nominated eleven times for their production efforts.

During the show, the two hosts held up pictures of Gelman from his high school yearbook noting how handsome he was. Gelman took the joke like a sport smiling during the whole bit.

The second show, which aired Tuesday, was taped an hour later with guests, Bernie Mac, Roger Ebert and Richard Roeper and a performance from the Matadors, formally known as the Luvabulls. Lou Rawls performed another song from his CD.

AT A GLANCE

Trustee questions document shredding

Gurnee—Village officials are at odds concerning accusations by Trustee Tom Chamberlain that important village documents were wrongly shredded. He asked why 203 cubic feet of financial and personnel documents dating as far back as 1930 and as recently as 2002 along with video tapes of village board meetings were destroyed.

Hayner called Chamberlain's accusations "unfair" and "shameful" and said he's "attacking the integrity of the people working here" and that his department went through proper procedures to destroy the records.

High school turned on to new energy source

Antioch—Community High School District 117 is ready to flip the switch on a small generation plant this week that uses methane gas from a nearby landfill to generate heat for the high school, with electricity created in the process sold off to ComEd.

New homes approved

Round Lake—The Round Lake village board approved the Madrona Ridge development, that will allow Concord Homes to build 149 single-family homes on 80.3 acres next to the Madrona Village subdivision just south of Townline Road, bordered by Bacon Road. Homes will sell from the low $200,000s to the mid $300,000s.

Parents accountable for child's actions

Mundelein—Village board members, despite objections from one trustee, passed an amended ordinance that would allow police to arrest parents who are negligent, knowingly, recklessly or intentionally giving or delivering an alcoholic beverage to a minor under the age of 21, even if the child is not their own, but on their property.

Trustee resigns

Fox Lake—Floyd Edwards, a village trustee, resigned this week, effective Oct. 31. Edwards is the second village official to resign since Mayor Nancy Koske was elected in 2001. Helen Prosperi resigned as village clerk shortly after taking office.

Pace may follow CTA with fare hike

By CAREL SCHMIDLKOFER
Staff Reporter

Metra and Pace presented its 2004 budgets to the Lake County Board on Oct. 14.

Pace's proposed 2004 operating budget increased 6.2 percent from the 2003 budget of $138.8 million to $147.3 million.

The increase is due in large part to rising health care expenses, higher pension and insurance costs, said Leondria Blackman, Pace's community and business representative.

The Regional Transportation Authority (RTA) has kept its commitment to fund Pace at the level designated last year, allowing Pace to present a balanced budget that does not call for service reductions or fare increases.

RTA will fund $79.1 million of Pace's 2004 operating budget, with the same 40 percent farebox recovery ratio.

The proposed capital program of $38.7 million has 63 fixed route buses, 1211 vanpool vehicles and a smaller amount for equipment and support facilities.

Their vanpool program grew by 1.8 percent in 2003.

Work will continue on the completion of the Intelligent Bus System (IBS), Blackman said.

Major service projects—that started with the revamping of the Elgin system—will continue through 2004.

Two other projects at Lambs Farm and Abbott Labs for new services also began this year.

Pace has goals to restructure routes in its six-county area by using $1 million in federal funding.

Pace is aware that the current system does not meet today's demands, Blackman said.

Input from community leaders and constituents is being sought, and municipal and community meetings are being planned for 2004.

When the Chicago Transit Authority (CTA) increases its fares, Blackman warned that Pace might adjust its fare structure accordingly. Lake County Board member, Angelo Kyle (D-Waukegan) asked why Pace had discontinued service to Waukegan High School.

"The contract with the high school ended," Blackman said. "And the high school went back to the yellow bus."

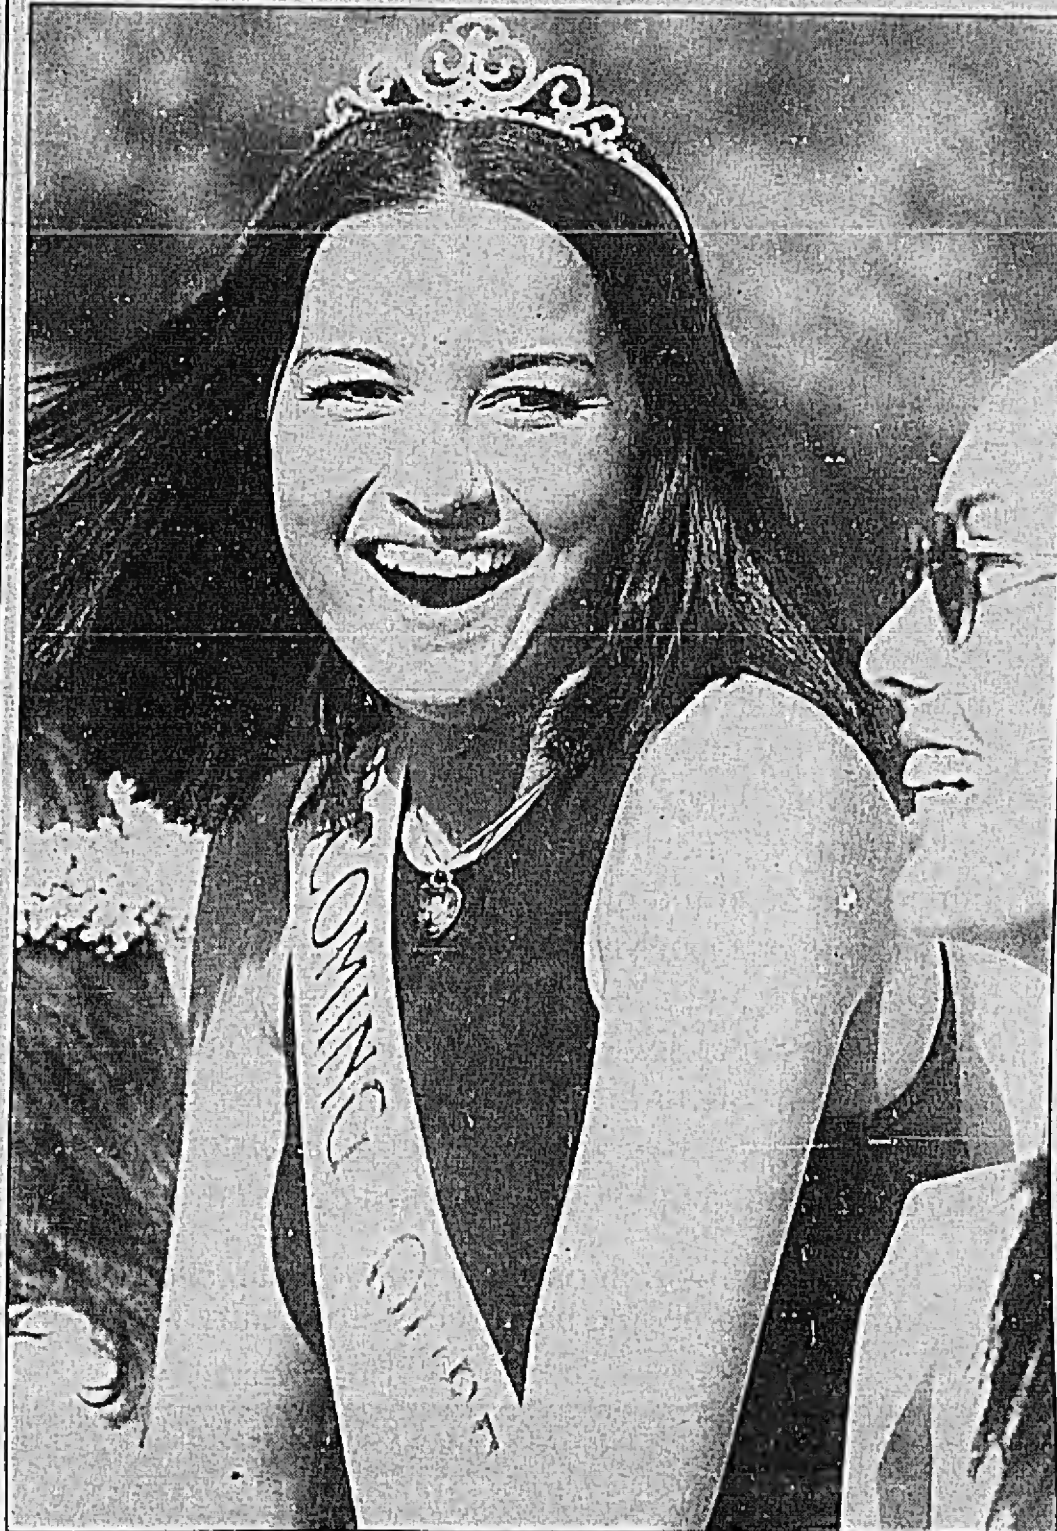

Pace would like to sign a new contract with the high school, Blackman said. Metra reported no fare increases for 2004 but plenty of expenditures.

An additional $74.3 million will be spent on the purchase of 300 new bi-level cars. To reduce conflicts between inbound and outbound trains, $2 million will be spent to install a second mainline track and sidings on North Central Service throughout Lake County.

They say $17 million will be spent updating the Lake Street Interlocker at Chicago Union Station and at the

Township heads discuss importance of their roles

By CAREL SCHMIDLKOFER
Staff Reporter

Waukegan Township hosted the Lake County Township Officials' annual dinner Oct. 10 at the Ramada Inn in Waukegan.

The event included a presentation, put together by the township, describing all of the 18 townships in Lake County.

Present were State Sens. William Peterson (R-Long Grove), Susan Garrett (D-Lake Forest), Terry Link (D-Vernon Hills) and State Reps. Eddie Washington (D-Waukegan), Ed Sullivan (R-Mundelein), aldermen and county board members.

"You are definitely grass-roots government at its best without a doubt," Link said.

"Township government serves a great purpose...to take care of those who need help most."

While the evening provided township heads an opportunity to get together, the goal was to discuss challenges facing townships today.

"Everyone in this room feels the effect of our struggling economy," said Waukegan Township Supervisor, Patricia Jones. "But no one as much as the various units of government represented here, particularly township government."

Jones shared disturbing statistics that her township faces. During the past five years, Waukegan Township has experienced

Stevenson home added to historical register

The elegant 1930s-era home in Mettawa where former Illinois Governor Adlai Stevenson II once entertained dignitaries such as John F. Kennedy and Eleanor Roosevelt, was added to the National Register of Historic Places.

Administered by the National Park Service, the register is the Nation's official list of cultural resources worthy of preservation. The home, located on St. Mary's Road south of Route 60, was donated to the Lake County Forest Preserves in 1974.

The 46-acre property with a 16-room home built in 1938, a carriage house and stable served as a haven for Stevenson, his wife and three sons, and a gathering place referred to as the "farm" for meetings with politicians and other dignitaries. It was designated an Illinois Historic Site in 1984.

Negotiations are underway with Barat College of DePaul University for operating an educational institute at the Stevenson home that could serve as a refuge for scholars in-residence, and host workshops and other academic programs.

Farmers trying to make best of mediocre season

By JULIE MURPHY
 Staff Reporter

Plentiful spring rains may well have saved this year's soybean and corn crops.

"Had we not had the rains we did in early spring, we may not have done as well this year," said Greg Koeppen with the Lake County Farm Bureau. "We've had years that were a lot worse."

Koeppen said insignificant rainfall from the end of July through August stunted the growth of crops that had had a stellar beginning.

"This was a perfect spring for growing conditions," he said. "The short of it is that Mother Nature didn't follow through and the crops suffered at the end of the summer."

Koeppen said the soybean yield has been below par with farmers harvesting an average of 30 bushels per acre when the area's norm is 45 bushels per acre. The upside is that prices have been holding steady at $6.50-$6.60 with a high of $7 hit two weeks ago.

"The other difference with the beans this year is that the size of the beans themselves are smaller," he said. "Fortunately, with the new uses for soybeans, the demand has been there and the prices haven't dropped."

According to Koeppen, any time there is a new use for a commodity crop that it is a boon to farmers. One of new use for soybeans is as an additive to diesel fuel.

"They're adding 2-20 percent soybean oil to diesel fuel and calling it soy diesel or soy-bio diesel," he said. "It acts as a lubricant because it's oil-based and it cuts back on those belching black smoke stacks on the trucks."

Koeppen said unlike when ethanol was first marketed, soy-bio diesel is cost competitive and that there are tax incentives for municipalities that use blends over 10 percent.

"We didn't know three years ago that soy would be used for diesel," he said. "The demand has been strong with its food uses and soy-based inks, but now it's running vehicles as well. It's always a good thing when 'home-grown' fuels are available."

Koeppen said that the corn harvest is just getting underway as many fields still have patches of green that need to be completely dry before farmers bring in the crop. He said early indications are that the yield is also down a little from the norm with this year's average being about 100 bushels per acre, down from 125.

"We'll know more in a couple of weeks, but the harvest weather has been outstanding right down to the harvest moon that makes it as bright as daylight," Koeppen said.

Koeppen asked that motorists remember to "share the road" with the farmers and their farm implements.

"No one wants to be in an accident, particularly the farmers," he said. "It's getting harder and harder for them to negotiate the roads in Lake County with the increases in traffic and construction. Remember that when you're rushing home to cook dinner."

First Latino judge earns award

The Women's Bar Association of Illinois, the Hispanic Lawyers Association of Illinois, the McHenry County Bar Association and the Lake County Bar Association presented Judge Jorge Ortiz with an award recognizing his achievement in being the first Latino judge of the 19th Judicial Circuit. The award was presented by Chief Judge Margaret J. Mullen of the 19th Judicial Circuit on behalf of the combined organizations.

Also receiving awards for their contributions to diversity were U.S. District Judge Ruben Castillo, Cook County Associate Judge Consuelo E. Bedoya, McHenry County Circuit judges Maureen McIntyre and Sharon Prather and Bankruptcy Judge Manuel Barbosa. A surprise award was given to Justice Susan Fayette Hutchinson, presiding judge of the Illinois Appellate Court's second district, as the first woman judge of the 19th Judicial Circuit.

COUNTY BRIEFS

YWCA hosts health fair

The YWCA of Lake County will be hosting a health fair: "Your Wellness Counts—Act Now," in recognition of Breast Cancer Awareness Month, on Oct. 17, from 2-7 p.m. at the Belvidere Discount Mall in Waukegan.

Free health screenings, including clinical breast exams, blood pressure screenings, cholesterol and glucose screenings and STD and HIV tests. Flu shots will be available for a $22 fee from Condell Medical Center. Various agencies will offer free community and health information. Call Carmen Nieto at the YWCA at 847-662-4247, Ext. 132 for details.

Carmel plays, concert

Carmel High School's Drama Club will present one act plays in the school auditorium. Dramas include "Midnight Wax" a murder mystery, "The Monkey's Paw," a tale of suspense, and two tales of terror by Edgar Allan Poe: "The Cask of Amontillado" and "The Fall of the House of Usher." The production will be presented on Oct. 18, at 7 p.m.

The annual Cabaret Concert will be on Oct. 22-23, at 7 p.m. The Choral Department will feature performances by several vocal ensembles and soloists. Concert tickets may be purchased at the door. Tickets for all events are $3. For more information, call 847-327-6348.

Child care workshop

"Improving and Using Your Observation Skills" is a workshop offered by the University of Illinois Extension with the YWCA of Lake County Child Care Resource. All child-care providers and interested parents can participate in the workshop from 6-8 p.m., on Oct. 23, at the Lake County Farm Bureau, 70 S. Route 45 in Grayslake. For more information on the program, call the YWCA of Lake County Child Care Resource and Referral at 847-662-4247.

Volunteer meeting

Persons interested in learning about volunteering for Habitat for Humanity Lake County are invited to attend a meeting on Oct. 21 at 7:30 p.m., at the Habitat for Humanity office, 315 N. Martin Luther King, Jr. Ave. in Waukegan. For more information, call Habitat for Humanity Lake County at 847-623-1020.

Clerk is guest speaker

Art Nouveau artist

On Oct. 24, from 3-7 p.m., Finch University of Health Sciences/The Chicago Medical School will host an opening reception for its latest art show: "Bibles, Bernhardt and Mucha," which will run until Nov. 28. The show will feature several works of Alphonse Mucha, who lived between 1860-1939, and was arguably the premier artist of the Art Nouveau period. For more information call 847-578-8417.

Stormwater workshop

Most new subdivision homeowner's associations in the county are probably unaware they are responsible for maintenance of stormwater facilities like detention ponds, swales, buffers and wetlands. The Lake County Stormwater Management Commission hosts a workshop on how to maintain stormwater facilities on Oct. 25, from 9-11 a.m. at the Warren Township Office, 17801 W. Washington, Gurnee. The workshop will cover: Why maintenance is important, identifying what kind of facilities you have, how to spot a failing facility, putting together a maintenance plan and schedule and who is responsible for what and why. Register by calling SMC at 847-918-5260 or email: cgarner@co.lake.il.us.

Waste collections

The Solid Waste Agency of Lake County (SWALCO) will hold household chemical waste collections, on Oct. 25, from 8 a.m.-2:30 p.m., at the Mundelein Metra Train Station, off of Route 45, south of Hawley Street at 205 N. Archer Ave. Call SWALCO at 847-336-9340 or visit www.swalco.org for more information.

Kiwanis Club event

Lindenhurst/Lakes Area Kiwanis Club will host a special fund-raising evening at the historic Genesee Theater, located at 221 N. Genesee St. in downtown Waukegan.

The old theater, built decades ago, had fallen into disrepair and is undergoing rehabilitation. It is expected to reopen next spring as a theatre and conference center.

The string of events will begin at 6:15 p.m., on Oct. 22. Net proceeds will be donated to the Friends of the Genesee Theater Foundation.

Garrett honored

State Sen. Susan Garrett (D-Lake Forest) received the "Friend of Consumer" award from the Illinois Coalition for Competitive Telecommunications for her integrity in opposing Senate Bill 885—SBC's anti-consumer rate-hike legislation that would have raised local phone rates in Illinois by as much as 70 percent.

Durbin awards POW medal

U.S. Sen. Dick Durbin (D-Ill.) presented the Prisoner of War Medal to World War II veteran Edward Kinsey posthumously in a ceremony held at the American Legion in North Chicago. Kinsey's widow, Helen, accepted the award on her late husband's behalf.

Staff Sergeant Kinsey was captured while fighting in the Battle of the Bulge in Luxembourg in December 1944. He was held by German soldiers for 110 days and released on March 17, 1945.

"It is a great honor to present a medal to the family of a soldier who sacrificed so much for our country, and for the freedom of the men, women and children he never knew, but who owe their lives to his service," Durbin said.

"I cannot fathom what it was like for Staff Sergeant Edward Kinsey, as a 35-year-old soldier in a foreign country with a family back home, to be taken prisoner and held until the end of the war," Durbin said.

During his four years in the Army's 110th Infantry Regiment, out of Fort Sheridan, Kinsey served in battles and campaigns in Normandy, northern France, Ardennes and Rhineland. He returned home to Illinois in late July 1945. The Prisoner of War Medal was authorized by Congress in 1985, nearly a quarter of a century after Kinsey died in 1962.

Kinsey, born in 1908, has also received a Service Stripe, a Good Conduct Ribbon, an American Defense Service Ribbon, a European-African-Middle Eastern Theater Ribbon, four Bronze Battle Stars and three Overseas Service Bars.

Kinsey's son, Daniel, was also present at the ceremony, as were several family friends and fellow Legionnaires.

The "New Kid" Returns!

Gary Rosenberg Returns as New Owner of Fox Lake Chrysler Dodge!

On October 1st Sandy McKie Chrysler-Dodge switched its name, but not its reputation. The dealership at 91 South Route 12 changed owners and its name to Fox Lake Chrysler Dodge and will continue to provide customers with the same Five Star service they have come to expect.

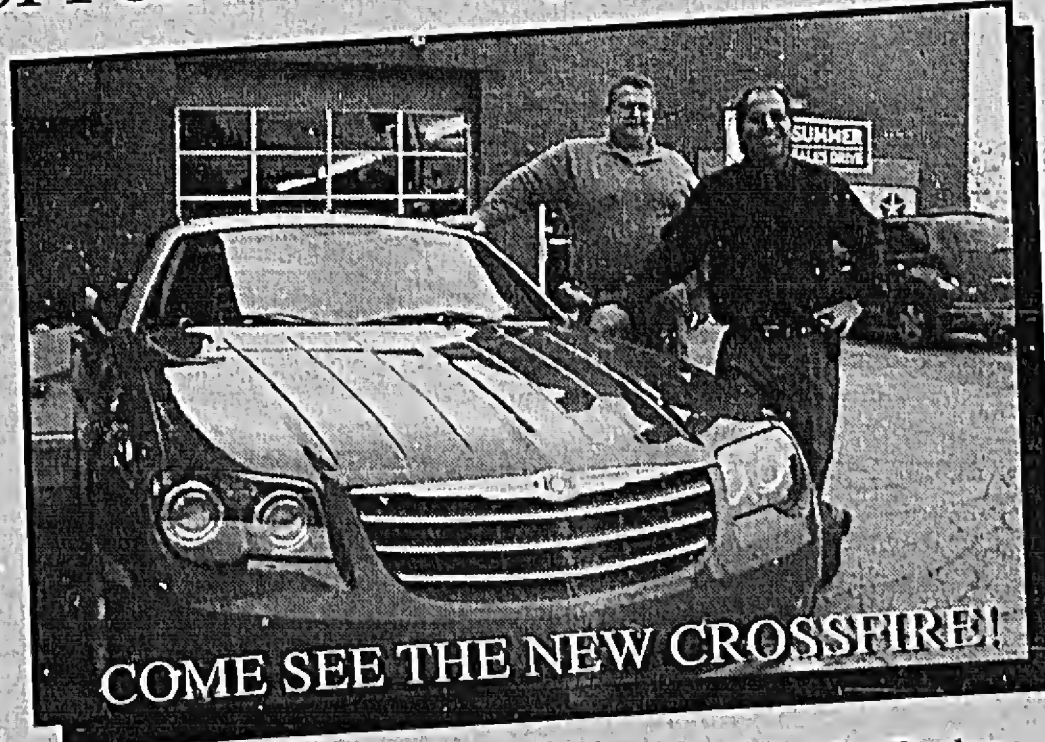

Gary Rosenberg, formerly of Crystal Lake Chrysler-Kia-Mitsubishi, purchased the dealership following the death of Sandy McKie at age 81. McKie's son, Bill, then decided to retire. General Manager Jim Vincent will continue to provide customers with the same friendly atmosphere and fine customer service they rely on.

"It's a natural fit for 56 years of experience between two people who are very customer oriented," said Vincent, of his new partnership with Rosenberg. "I am excited. I think it will be a good mix between what he knows and I know."

As far as new owner Rosenberg is concerned, it is business as usual with a few upgrades. Rosenberg said that customers can expect extended service hours and an expanded inventory. "I am proud as I can be to be taking over this 30 year family business," Rosenberg said. Feelings are mutual.

"I feel very comfortable turning over the dealership to this guy," said McKie, whose known Rosenberg for 20 years. "He treats his customers well. He's a good guy, very customer oriented."

"It's just business as usual," said Rosenberg, of Fox Lake Chrysler Dodge. "Come see Gary where prices and people matter."

EDITORIAL

Hurting business a no-gain game for sticklers

Owners and managers of local businesses have a lot to offer when it comes to serving in elected positions of community government. They know the turf. They have demonstrated commitment. They're recognizable faces. And, most importantly, they have business experience and savvy that is all too lacking in government today. Connected with a commercial enterprise, successful local business people know how to manage finances. They have to simply to survive.

Sadly, business people shy away from running for public office, not so much, in our opinion, for lack of interest, but because they are reluctant to expose themselves and their families to "small potato" politics and a lack of understanding on what makes a hometown, home-owned business tick. For all intents and purposes, prejudice holds business people to an unfair double standard.

The one-sidedness against business people serving in elected positions is playing out today in Gurnee in what can be called the Daffodil Bulb Scandal.

Trustee Tom Chamberlain, vocal and rarely restrained in stating his opinion, has turned the purchase by the village of 2,000 daffodil bulbs from a family business in which Trustee Jeanne Balmes is involved into an ethical embarrassment that calls for correction. Chamberlain's solution is an ordinance banning village officials from doing business with the village.

Discount the fact that the purchase of 2,000 daffodil bulbs is a pretty minuscule expense for a multi-million dollar municipal corporation. Scrub the fact that the Balmes family has been faithfully providing flowers and an array of greenhouse products to the community for more than 50 years. Take into consideration that Balmes didn't strong-arm the Gurnee purchasing department into making a sleazy no-bid deal that would result in a windfall profit.

What happened is what happens quite often in Gurnee. When you think of flowers, you think of Balmes. The bulbs were obtained from a local source, a reliable source, by the way, that has been serving the community for many years and providing a worthwhile service and paying taxes, it also should be noted, while, in no small part, supporting all sorts of worthwhile charitable endeavors with donations of cash and merchandise all these years.

But that doesn't matter when a village official with a turn-the-infidels-away-from-the-gate mentality gets the whiff of a transaction in need of scrutiny. The fact that Chamberlain and Balmes clash from time to time on policy issues has nothing to do with the indignation erupting over the daffodil bulb purchase. Of course not.

Mayor Don Rudy and a majority of the village board sided with Chamberlain, and the board voted 4 to 2 for a new ordinance that effectively will ban the village from purchasing as much as a paper clip from an elected official. They see Gurnee's new "no business with village officials" as strengthening a state statute that puts a $4,500 cap on business that can be transacted with a local official.

Editors of one news weekly covering Gurnee viewed Trustee Balmes' behavior with such alarm that they thundered righteously in an editorial that "elected officials should not be making money off the government they lead." Daffodil bulbs? Paper clips?

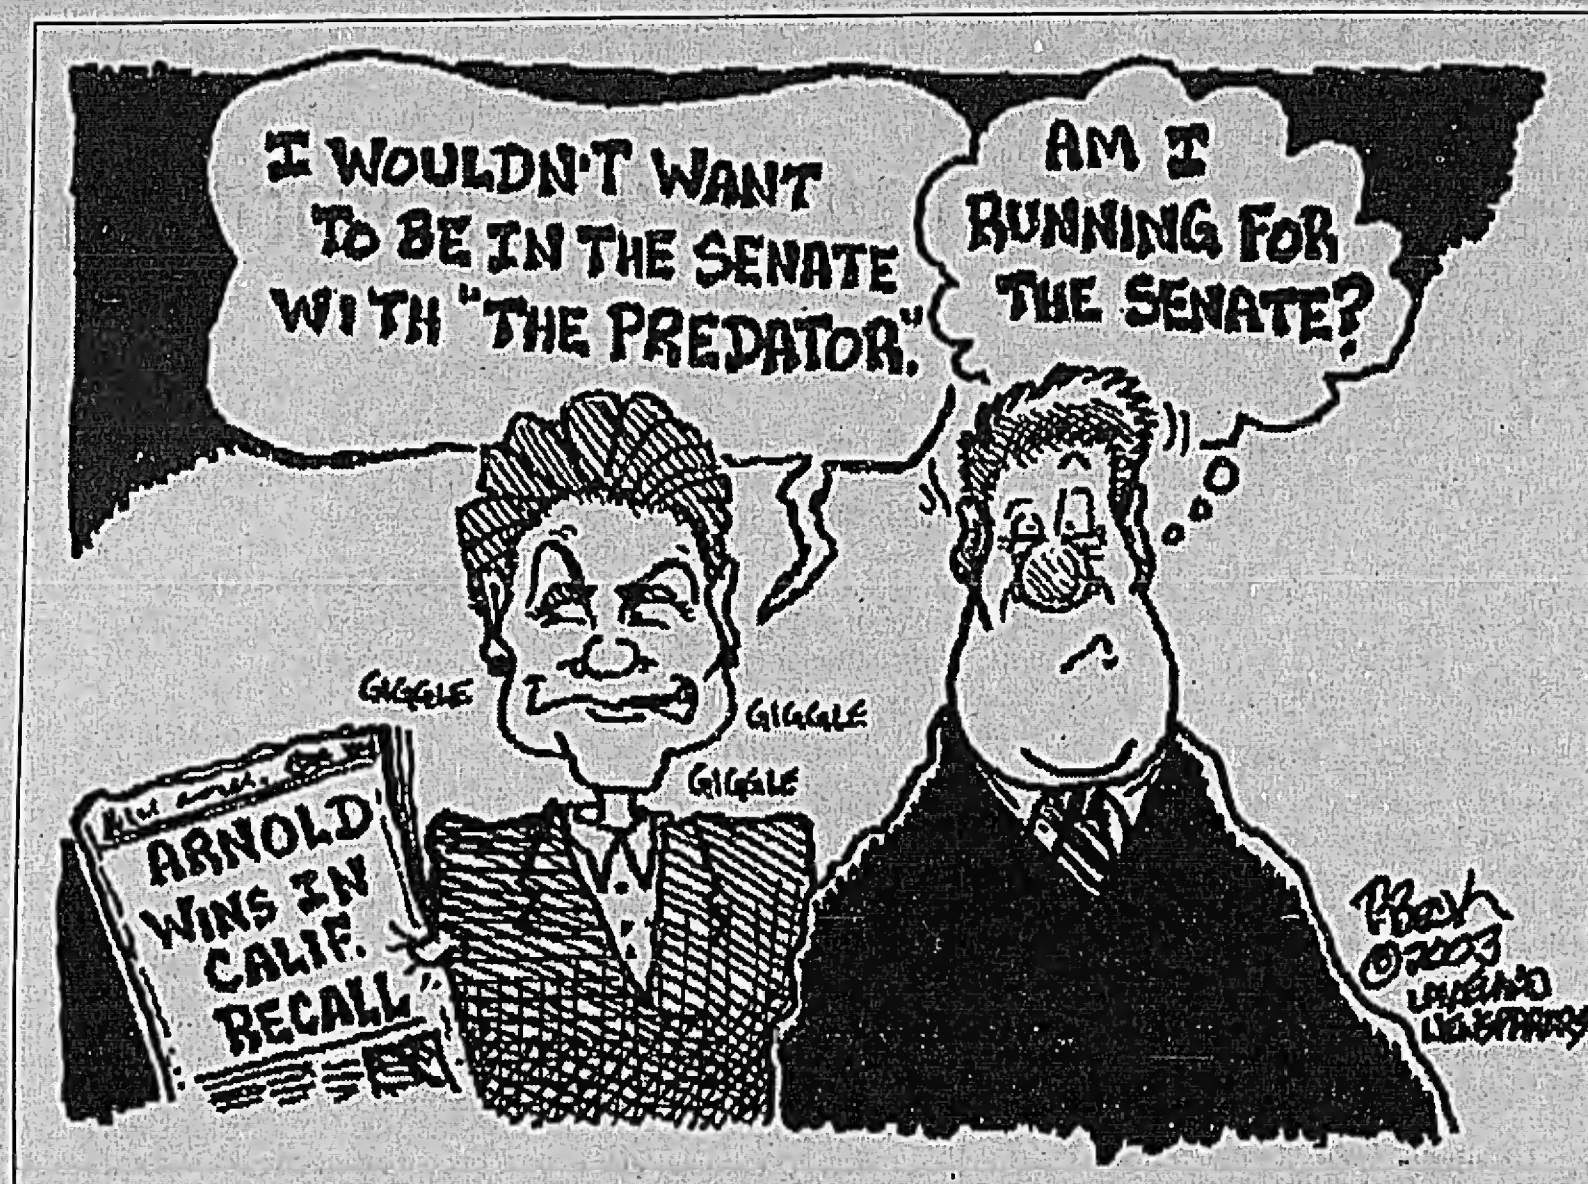

By now, you've probably got the impression that we're not that moved by the Daffodil Scandal. You're correct. We think the state statutes cover the situation more than adequately, providing ethical protection and allowing common sense to prevail, especially when a transaction doesn't call for open competitive bidding. Disclosure should be the paramount consideration. We're unaware that Trustee Balmes tried to hide anything.

We tend to side with the courageous Gurnee trustee who voted no on Chamberlain's ordinance in the belief that the edict discourages business owners from running for public office. (Balmes also voted no). The new Gurnee ordinance certainly sends a chilling message to would-be candidates who own or are employed by an enterprise that does business with a village.

A brief check showed a small number of business people serving in elective positions in Lake County local government. Too bad. That's our collective loss. Among the higher profile officers are Libertyville Mayor Duane Laska, who owns a sign business; Antioch Mayor Taso Maravallas, owner of a restaurant and catering business and Grayslake Mayor Tim Perry, who heads a branch bank.

Here's a question to be considered by Trustee Chamberlain, holder of the moral high ground, keeper of the keys of virtue, bulwark of principal: what if Balmes had donated the daffodils, perhaps forcing the bulbs on an unwitting village purchasing agent? Would that not raise such issues to investigate as bribery, influence peddling, hush money?

Let's see if Trustee Chamberlain has an answer. It's popular to beat up on business in general in politics today. But it doesn't make much sense in our book to hammer business people in public office just because of their employment. It's unfair and it stinks!

VIEWPOINT

Greed replacing work place misery

Many years ago a learned man in public office described the purpose of a labor strike as "the ultimate recourse of a desperate man."

The words of the late Robert "Bob" Coulson are being rephrased, but they come to mind as striking teachers walked picket lines at Woodland School and members of the Teamsters remained home as garbage piled up in homes and places of business.

Coulson served in OSS as an Army officer during World War II, remained active in the Army Reserve, was a highly regarded assistant state's attorney, capable mayor of Waukegan, represented Lake County as both a state representative and state senator, and narrowly lost out in a bid for Congress in the 1950s. He was a recognized national writer on public policy subjects. One of his articles became required reading for college sociology students.

In short, Bob Coulson had a lot to say and was worth listening to.

He spoke out about strikes in the context of job actions by coal miners, railroaders performing dangerous tasks for long hours and factory workers who were turned into assembly line robots.

Reasonable and rational, Coulson saw the best course for unhappy union workers as negotiation and compromise. As a politician he fully appreciated that when hopelessness took over, despair could be expressed with a strike.

In today's working world, where

BILL SCHROEDER
Publisher

is the despair? Where is the desperation? Bitterness on the part of teachers and garbage haulers is evident. And, in fairness, there is evidence that some disillusionment is justified. But where is the misery and the wretched life that striking teachers and garbage haulers depict?

It is ironic that, in the two strikes brought in September, it is the parents of Woodland school children who have become disillusioned; householders wondering what to do with growing mounds of trash are the ones overcome with a sense of hopelessness. If pure unadulterated greed isn't at the bottom of strikes, what is?

Clark to visit

The Navy's highest ranking officer, Adm. Vern Clark, chief of naval operations, will be in Lake County Friday, Oct. 31, for a busy day at Great Lakes Naval Station. He will be reviewing officer at the weekly recruit graduation at 9:30 a.m. Adm. Clark will be guest speaker at a Naval Service Training Command Establishment ceremony at 3:30 p.m. Mrs. Clark will attend and offer brief remarks at 1 p.m. at the dedication of the Great Lakes Learning Center.

Potential veep

Gov. Rod Blagojevich is on the prowl for bigger and better things in politics. Writing in Crain's Chicago Business, political scientist James Nowlan sees Gov. Blago positioning himself for a vice presidential nomination. By "balancing" the budget without a tax increase, increasing spending for education, social service and health care, and pushing ethics in an era of scandal, the always-campaigning governor has vaulted into the forefront of "new" Democrats. Nowlan, a former Illinois legislator, state agency director and Republican strategist, now is a senior fellow with the University of Illinois Institute of Government and Public Affairs. Nowlan referred to Blagojevich as a "poster boy for the white-ethnic vote the Democrats need to topple Mr. Bush."

Course material

Nancy Erickson, who teaches a course in business at College of Lake County, put Viewpoint's views about e-mail problems into use last week. Erickson, a Lake Villa resident retired from Abbott Laboratories, said the column served as a balance against the course textbook that views e-mail only in glowing terms. Erickson finds the growing amount of pornography traffic on e-mail especially troublesome.

Education no better off for promises

For about 20 years now, in every election, just about every political candidate on the national or state level has run on a platform listing education as the No. 1 priority. With such longtime emphasis on education, our schools and education ought to be in good shape—right? Well—no.

Education might be better off if we left its future in the hands of educators, teachers, parents and students instead of in the hands of politicians. Candidates have offered a lot of mumbo-jumbo gibberish and sound-bites aimed at winning elections.

I have said before that one of my political pet peeves is the use of

SEEING
IT THROUGH
John S. Matijevich

gimmicks and sound-bites as solutions to serious problems. Let's take the matter of education. What do you hear from the mouths of politicians? They say, "We need to raise standards," or "We need to get back to the basics," or "We need to enforce accountability." They wrap it all up in a neat package and call it "education reform." That all sounds nice, doesn't it? You almost have to vote for a candidate who proposes all of that to improve education.

The latest feel-good sound-bite on education sailed out of Congress about two years ago with President George Bush and both political parties competing to take credit for its enactment. They were all anxious for you to read their lips as they proclaimed it the NO CHILD LEFT BEHIND ACT. Now, who can be against that?

The act was intended to make schools better by holding them to higher standards, and if the schools failed the rating system, students

PARTY LINES, THE LAKELAND NEWSPAPERS' COLUMN OF POLITICAL OPINION, IS PREPARED FROM STAFF REPORTS.

Seeking straight shot for new manager

After approving more than $100,000 in expenses to get rid of a village manager who only worked three months, members of the Barrington Village Board are out to erase a reputation as "the gang that can't shoot straight."

They paid a search firm $18,200 to hire Curtis Allison, who was in hot water almost from the day he started. Trustee Paul Hunt said Allison's gruff manner offended veteran village employees.

Mayor Marshall S. Reagle, who is at odds with the board majority, was an Allison supporter. Allison's severance package was reported at nearly $98,000. Barrington also paid the departing village manager $5,000 for temporary housing where he began work at mid-summer.

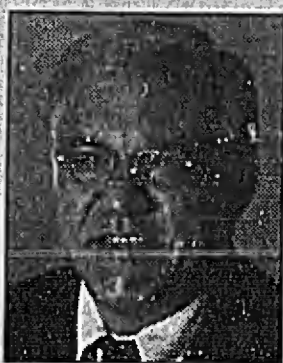

Supporters of Allison said he was the victim of an ongoing power struggle between Mayor Reagle and several village trustees.

Early start

Gurnee is experiencing the earliest ever start for the next mayoral election in 2005. Trustee Jeanne Balmes has talked about seeking the mayors job for a long time. Now Trustee Tom Chamberlain, who continues to argue with Balmes, says he could be interested in the mayor's job. No word about the future from Mayor Don Rudny, who is concentrating on his official duties.

Mayor for roads

Village presidents of Buffalo Grove continue to seek out leadership roles in advocating highway transportation improvements. Current Mayor Elliott Hartstein is following in the footsteps of Verna Clayton, now retired, and Sid Matthias, now a Republican state representative. Hartstein is advocating pressure being put on Gov. Rod Blagojevich and members of the General Assembly. He invites comments at his office: 847-821-5290, Ext. 107.

Campaign helpers

Jim Farrell, who is looking at his chances in the March primary for a county board run, reportedly is getting advice from Jack Martin and Bob Depke, former County board chairman. Farrell is studying issues and building contacts with Republican precinct captains. If he runs, the self-employed business consultant will take on Forest Preserve president and County Board Rep. Bonnie Thomson Carter (R-Ingleside).

TV connection

Former County Board Rep. Larry Leafblad is keeping abreast of politics as host of an interview program aired on county television. Friends are urging him to regain his mid-county seat lost in 2002 in the Republican primary to Don Bauer of Round Lake Park.

Backing Federation

Former Lt. Gov. Corinne Wood is an honorary co-chairperson for the second annual fall dinner sponsored by the Lake County Republican Federation set for Thursday, Oct. 23, at Glen Flora Country Club, Waukegan. Wood is staying close to the political scene. She is a past president of the Federation, the fund-raising arm of the Lake County Republican organization. Regular tickets are $100 each.

Jurors thanked

Oct. 13-18 is observed as Juror Appreciation Week in Lake County. Chief Judge Margaret J. Mullen said it is a policy of judges to visit with their juries to express thanks. Judge Mullen noted that last year more than 8,000 persons responded to a jury summons.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Not so terrorizing as administration makes it seem

The Bush administration is selling the terrorist theme just as they sold the "weapons of mass destruction" theme, and the "free the Iraqi people" theme, and the "establish a democracy in Iraq" theme, anything to justify staying in Iraq at the expense of the American people in terms of blood, money, and indebtedness for generations yet unborn.

Terrorists come in many forms: numbers, complexions, dress, with a wide variety of weapons, from box cutters to AK-47's to explosive devices strapped to their bodies, and it's ridiculous to assume that this diverse crowd will meet in Baghdad to plan their attacks.

For the Bush administration to play upon the fears of the American people by using the terrorist theme is even more reprehensible than any of their other ploys. Shame on them.

Doesn't like Carter

A report stated that Forest Preserve Chairman Carter wants to look at splitting the County Board and the Forest Preserve. Then the story says let's wait until 2010. We would not even hear about this now if Jim Farrell had not forced Carter to deal with the issue.

Farrell is exploring a run for Carter's seat on the Lake County Board, and has been the one talking about this issue and many others.

Now Carter must manufacture reasons to deal with important issues that she has ignored for her own self-interest since being elected in 1996 (a long time ago).

Carter knows the boards should be split before her many conflicts of interest are exposed. She also hopes that they are split when she is not worried about losing her job/jobs at taxpayer expense. I hope Jim Farrell runs and defeats her. We need Jim Farrell.

Patronage abuses

The tollway system is a true danger to life and the economy. Maybe we need a 150-year waiting period before bringing expressway traffic to a deadly crashing halt.

In Illinois there is an effort to eliminate the patronage workers of the patronage highway system and still keep the tax revenue coming in. Only in Illinois. Had the patronage Highway Authority kept the surplus and wisely invested it instead of calculatingly spending into debt, we would have freeways and less death, destruction, workman's compensation claims, pollution, wear and tear on vehicles. We would have longer lasting highways, more profit in business, which means more revenue for government.

At least keep the workers and let us all stop and hand our tax money to a patronage worker. I-Pass I need a transponder. I prepay for the use of the road I paid to have built. I pay whether I use the road or not. The state has my money to get a return on investment unless as usual they spend like drunken soldiers on furlough. When a toll gate malfunctions I am outrageously fined beyond reason. I have no doubt that after implementation of I-Pass throughout the entire Patronage Expressway System the managers will be well compensated for their efficient manor of collecting taxes. Pay as you go is a wonderful idea. We pay as we go, we pay at every other level also and the money is siphoned off and wasted on other project cost over runs. The taxes we pay for roads are for every lane and mile within the state.

Men remembered

Last year I wrote and you published a letter I wrote voicing my concern that only women seemed to be getting free medical services. Even though I felt this was great for women, I felt that men were being short changed in that there would be no free prostate exams offered for the year.

This year, however, things changed and Vista Health Care offered free prostate exams at St. Therese hospital. Let me tell you how delighted I was to hear this good news. And what a wonderful job the hospital did in making this screening a huge success.

The parking for the automobile was great. The signs to tell you where to go for the screening were right on target. The nurses were right there to give you what you needed to fill out for the exam. The blood was drawn and the doctor was there to complete the task.

All in all it was a great professional experience and I want to wholeheartedly thank all the doctors and nurses for the wonderful job they did. Thank you so very much.

Unwanted intrusion

I read with great dismay that Matthew Towson, a member of Congressman Mark Kirk's staff had injected himself into the Woodland School union crisis. It is doubly troubling when we realize that Mr. Towson is the Republican Committeeman for Precinct 166 in Libertyville. His attendance record at township meetings leaves much to be desired yet he does not mind jumping into this crisis as an unabashed advocate of the teachers union. I thought Congressional aides would be more discrete in supporting unions over taxpayers, especially Republican ones.

Mr. Towson ask "What profession is more underpaid than that of a teacher?" I have a quick, ready and timely answer: a combat infantryman in Iraq. Perhaps Mr. Towson should think about our servicemen and women who besides having to sleep in tents with 120 degree temperatures, eat food out of a packet, search for a shower, don't come home to their loved ones every night and, oh yes, are subject to being killed by terrorists 24 hours a day.

It is unfathomable to me that Mr. Towson on the staff of a Congressman who is himself a serving Naval Reserve officer who has been to Iraq would not understand that walking a picket line in Gurnee is far from the reality of the real picket lines our combat infantrymen walk 24 hours a day in Iraq.

SEEING

were given the option to transfer from failing schools to better performance schools.

Again, it sounds good. One small problem. The funds to implement the program were woefully short.

Also, what sounds good in theory doesn't always make sense from a practical standpoint. For one thing, there is nothing that requires successful schools to accept students from a failing school, and with no money to finance the transfer students, it is very difficult to satisfy students who want to opt to attend a better school.

Last year, in Chicago, only 1,200 students out of over 100,000 eligible for transfer to a better school were offered transfers. This year, just over 400 students in Chicago chose to accept transfers.

It is a matter of common sense if all of the many thousands of students eligible were transferred to other schools, it would be just a matter of time when those schools would be sub-par schools. Just as night follows day, the better schools are the ones with smaller class sizes which allow more attention to provide quality education. As soon as better schools become over-crowded, the quality of education would suffer.

I also have a problem with the standardized testing schemes. Too much attention in education has gone to instructing students aimed at passing tests rather than providing sound, creative education.

Early this year, when I heard on a radio report that New Trier High School was in financial difficulty, I thought that, if it's true, then every school in Illinois is in trouble. Financing of public education is dependent on adequate resources and when there is anything resembling a recession, all of education suffers.

With the slow economy, this is no time to add more burdens or mandates on schools, whether coming from Springfield or Washington. Leave education up to those who have the responsibility to provide it. The teachers will do an adequate job if their hands are untied of bureaucratic burdens.

If politicians continue to meddle, it won't be long until EVERY CHILD WILL BE LEFT BEHIND.

a major change in revenue by way of the personal property tax provided by the State of Illinois.

This form of revenue declined 44.5 percent, Jones said.

The township went from receiving $435,000 from the state in 2000 to $300,000 in 2004.

"Because there is so very little new construction in Waukegan Township, we have also been held to an annual 4 percent increase in our real estate taxes," Jones said.

Health insurance has gone up for their employees and the figures are "alarming" for the cost of general assistance to residents.

"Waukegan Township is the most populated in Lake County with 92,805 residents," Jones said. "We also have the highest percentage of persons at or below the poverty level, 15.2 percent are at the poverty level. We have more people at the poverty level than the entire population of Wauconda Township and Newport Township combined."

Bryan Smith, Executive Director of the Township Officials of Illinois and President of the National Association of Towns and Townships, encouraged townships to participate in national organizations.

"Things that happen in Washington, D.C. affect us every day here in Illinois," Smith said. "We just can't keep our heads buried in the sand here in Illinois. We need to be seen and we need to be heard. That's the purpose of our national organization out in Washington—to make sure that our voices are heard out there."

Smith added that Lake County officials have played an important part in their organization over the years.

"This past year we had all but six townships in the whole state as members of our organization," Smith said. "That's kind of unheard of for a state-wide organization."

Officers who were sworn in included Daniel Venturi, president, Lake Villa Township; Pamela Hoffman, first vice president, Elmhurst Township; Patricia Jones, second vice president, Waukegan Township; Rosemary Mers, secretary, Wauconda Township and Kay Starostovic, treasurer, Grant Township.

Expansion and upgrades to the North Central Service between Antioch and Chicago will require an additional $29.4 million in 2004 and $39.8 million thereafter.

The expansion will include approximately 24 miles of new main line track, new stations at Franklin Park, Schiller Park, Rosemont and Grayslake.

Existing stations are expected to see 4,970 new parking spaces next year.

Mack said Metra is hoping to expand the parking with 14 acres of land at Round Lake's train station.

Beware medicating your pets with drugs designed for people

The other day I found an old brochure put out by the Buddy Foundation—a non-profit animal welfare group whose stated purpose is to place "strays and abandoned animals into loving homes." I must add, this is a very good cause.

An extremely useful and important list of commonly used medications—those we would find in our medicine cabinet—attracted my attention. The publication outlined the dosage and safety factors to consider if you are thinking of giving them to our pets.

Some medications, such as aspirin and Pepto-Bismol, are listed with instructions to "NEVER give this to your cat."

The problem is that the majority of pet owners are unaware of the dangers of "prescribing" human medications to treat animals. Pets are not little humans—despite the fact that we often consider them to be members of our family. They have different reactions than humans to many substances. Trying to adjust the amount of medicine to give a pet, based on the amount that we would give a child, normally does not work. It may result in your pet getting very sick and may even cause death.

I have two dogs, two cats, three birds and a horse. Never would I give my pets anything without my veterinarian prescribing exactly what to give and the dosage amount. Unfortunately, there are some very well-meaning people who equally love their animals yet will attempt to take matters into their own hands.

I found a report concerning pet poisonings that attributed acetaminophen, non-steroidal anti-inflammatory drugs (NSAIDs) and prescription painkillers responsible for 14 percent of the drug poisonings in dogs. Twelve percent of dogs poisoned by drug products were poisoned

ON CALL

by topical preparations (things we never think much about that we put on our skin) and 11 percent were poisoned by the ingestion of antibiotics and antiviral drugs.

Aspirin, Tylenol® and other over-the-counter pain medications can be extremely dangerous.

Cats should not be given any medication containing aspirin, ibuprofen, phenylbutazone, naproxen, indomethacin or acetaminophen. Medications containing morphine, codeine or similar products cause excitement and may result in your cat's death.

For dogs, indomethacin is toxic. Naproxen is very dangerous and ibuprofen can cause vomiting and stomach bleeding.

Why is it, then, that we humans, for the most part, don't have a problem with these drugs while for animals they can be deadly?

The answer has to do with the liver and how these drugs are metabolized by various enzyme systems. Biomedical processes in our pets are very different from our own.

Chicago Pet Clinic's Thomas A. Janik, D.V.M., explains the need to understand the "half-life" of a drug. That means the amount of time it takes for half of the medication to be completely out of the system.

"Cats, for example, are notorious for lacking enzyme systems." While most of us could safely take an aspirin four times a day, we would give it to our dog only two times within a 24-hour period, and that may also depend on the weight of the animal. The half-life of an aspirin in a dog is about 19 hours. In a cat, the half-life would be 56 hours. "They just don't have the enzyme systems to eliminate it any faster."

According to Dr. Janik, many of the newer COX-2 inhibitor compounds such as Celebrex and Vioxx have an especially long half-life. Now, maybe you can see why it would not be a good idea to give these to your pet.

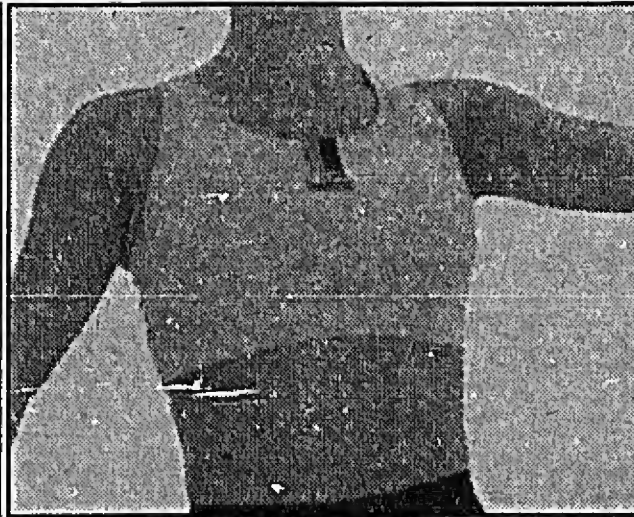

When it comes to antibiotics, pets will sometimes need them to help combat infections just as humans do. Just as with any other drug, antibiotics can be dangerous when used inappropriately.

The dangers include toxicity, as well as unsuccessful eradication of the infection and the increasing problem of resistance to antibiotics. Topical antibiotics such as Bacitracin and Neomycin may be used for cuts and scrapes, but the injury should be watched very closely until healed. Bites and punctures require special care and really are best handled by your veterinarian.

Of course the best advice is to always ask and follow the course of treatment recommended by your veterinarian. It is always very important to ask what drugs can be given safely and in what amounts. Remember to always keep your medication out of your pet's reach. Pets will often eat a pill they find on the floor or playfully knock over a bottle of pills if they can reach it. They will chew on just about anything.

Also keep in mind that alcohol is a drug. While a shot of brandy to ease the sniffles or a glass of wine may be beneficial for us humans to relieve stress and help prevent coronary related disease, never allow or encourage your pet to drink any kind of alcohol. Getting your pet "drunk" so you can have a few laughs may very dangerously affect your pet. The whiskey's okay for your men but forget the beer for your horses, Toby Keith and Willie Nelson!

Advocate Good Shepherd Hospital hosts meeting the cancer challenge

The support group, Meeting the Cancer Challenge meets on the third Tuesday of each month from 6:30 - 8 p.m. in the Lakeview Room. The next meeting will be held on Tuesday, Oct. 21 at Advocate Good Shepherd Hospital in the Lakeview Room.

Meeting the Cancer Challenge offers a compassionate place for people with cancer, their family and friends to explore their feelings and discuss their concerns regarding their disease. The focus is on emotional issues related to living with cancer. It also provides cancer patients and their families and friends an opportunity to come together and discuss similar problems. Topics of interest ranging from stress management to insurance issues and other educational subjects are presented at the meetings. This group has recently been changed to meet the needs of our patients, and we welcome all patients with cancer - from newly diagnosed to patients with recurrences. No registration is required; meetings are informal and free.

To register, or for more information, call the Good Shepherd Hospital Oncology Information Line at 847-842-HUGS (4847).

Good Shepherd Hospital, located on Highway 22 north of Barrington, is a 146-bed health care facility and a Level II trauma center with more than 400 physicians representing 35 medical specialties. Good Shepherd is part of Advocate Health Care, one of the Chicago area's largest health care organizations.

Stephen & Susan Tunberg

Stephen & Susan Tunberg

The family of Stephen and Susan Tunberg have celebrated their ninth anniversary with them. On Oct. 8, 1994, they were married at Calvary Presbyterian Church in Round Lake by the pastor, Rev. Lisle J. Kauffman.

They honeymooned at the Wisconsin Dells, Wis.

There are three children, Frederick, Mitchell and Emilee.

Stephen and Susan celebrated their anniversary with a weekend get-away.

Assistance to seniors with healthcare bill questions

Healthcare bills can be confusing. The number of forms seems to multiply overnight. The insurance company denies payment and you can't figure out why. It's not always clear what charges Medicare will and will not cover. There is help available for adults over the age of 65 and it's free. It's a service established by the State of Illinois called the Senior Health Insurance Program or SHIP. SHIP is staffed by specially trained volunteers who answer questions and provide assistance in processing healthcare bills for senior citizens.

SHIP is not an insurance program. In Lindenhurst and Waukegan, SHIP is sponsored by Vista Health. SHIP volunteers have three offices to meet with people to discuss their healthcare bill concerns. Offices are located at Provena Saint Therese Medical Center (Waukegan), Victory Memorial Hospital (Waukegan) and The Village at Victory Lakes (Lindenhurst). ## Free Report Reveals Amazing Alternative To Low Paying CDs And Risky Stock Market! Find Out What Your Banker And Broker Don't Want You To Know!

Fairfax, VA-She was simply stunned to hear what her banker told her. "I'm really sorry Elizabeth, but I can't do any better than 1.5% on that CD. If you want to tie it up for 10 years, I can get you a little over 2.5%, but that's it."

Lousy 2% On CDs! What's She Going To Do?

Elizabeth felt betrayed. After all, she had been putting her savings in this bank for 17 years. And now that Frank was no longer here, she had to take care of everything herself.

It frightened her to have to deal with taxes and paying bills, and trying to figure out things like refinancing her house. All that was tough enough, but then watching her monthly income sink like a brick in the water was the last straw.

"He didn't even care that we had been such loyal customers all these years," thought Elizabeth.

There Is Nothing The Banker Can Do.

"I asked him why I was still paying 15.5% on my credit card balances, when he was only willing to pay me a little better than 2% on my savings. It made me real sad to hear him say that there was nothing he could do."

As she stepped into her home, she was reminded of Frank everywhere she looked. "What would he do?" she said to no one in particular.

Elizabeth then opened the mail and saw the statement from her stock brokerage house. She was afraid to open it because the market had been on such a roller coaster ride that she knew her accounts were likely to be down. Again.

Her Stock Accounts Went Down...Again!

Sure enough, when she saw the balance of her IRA and mutual fund accounts, she got a sick feeling in the pit of her stomach. Elizabeth had to sit down and gather herself, staring at the unbelievable amount of money her accounts had lost, even worse than before!

She started to cry. She said out loud to no one in particular, "I've lost over 30% of my retirement money in this ridiculously risky market? I should have known better." Then Elizabeth felt a chill go through her as if she had been pierced with an ice pick in her soul. "Oh my god. What would Frank have said if he knew I had put so much cash, the money he had worked so hard for, into a casino like the stock market? He would be so mad..." Elizabeth's mind trailed off, as she cried some more. How badly she felt for herself, and for Frank.

The Answer Revealed Itself To Her!

When Elizabeth sat down to read the paper, she saw an article that got her curious, and she sent for a report that was commented on in the article.

The article said there are alternatives to CDs and mutual funds that most people didn't know about. Alternatives that were low risk, but had the benefit of a potential higher return...and tax benefits to boot!

Elizabeth called the toll-free, recorded message and requested her copy of this free report. She was hoping this was the answer she had been seeking.

A couple of days later, she she opened the mail. She was excited to see the free report had arrived. Elizabeth made herself a cup of tea and sat down at their kitchen table to take in all the information in the report.

When she finished reading, she felt comfortable for the first time since Frank passed away. She had finally learned the little known alternative to CDs her banker and broker had never told her.

FREE Report Reveals Little Known Alternative!

A copy of the FREE REPORT is available by calling 1-800-572-7185, 24 hours, for a FREE RECORDED MESSAGE! Why not call NOW and get your free copy of this shocking and eye opening report? If you are sick of your 1.5-2.5% CDs earning such paltry interest, and are rightfully scared of the crazy and risky stock market...the answer to your frustrations is contained in this free report. Call NOW, while this is fresh on your mind! What have you got to lose? The call, recorded message and report are free! Waiting won't help you, so pick up the phone NOW!

Voice of Wilmot hangs up mic after 24 years

By JOHN PHELPS
Lakeland Correspondent

Mike Babicz vividly recalls his first days of announcing the action from atop a hay wagon at the legendary Wilmot Speedway.

"I barely made it through the night: my voice was shot," said Babicz, who has stepped down after 24 great years of announcing the action at the oval clay facility. "I remember having an open microphone and wasn't used to letting it do the work for me. I found myself trying to talk over the cars."

Last week, Wilmot concluded its season, 53rd to be exact, with the annual season-ending championship night.

It also marked the finale for Babicz, who himself took a well-deserved checkered flag.

A Who's Who crowd of racers, friends, family and current and former racing colleagues joined in paying tribute to the long-time announcer whose voice echoed through out the town of Wilmot each and every Saturday night from roughly May-October.

Good friend and co-announcer Roger Mueller and Randy Sippel, a former Wilmot racer and owner of the Sippel Open Wheel Driving School presented Babicz with a special crystal trophy to commemorate years of commitment to Wilmot and its loyal fans.

Wilmot starter and Director of Competition Jim Stout and Jeff Wessel, who started going to the races at Wilmot when he was a kid and Babicz first began announcing, presented the 'Voice of Wilmot' with a Humanitarian Award for all of Babicz' behind-the-scenes work and involvement at the speedway.

Perhaps most touching was Wilmot Media Specialist Paul Kuyawa and his wife Nancy presenting Babicz with a racer's prayer plaque.

"I had dedicated the Racer's Prayer, which is read before the start of every show, to Paul's father who had a stroke over the summer. For them to turn around and present me with that was a tremendous honor," said Babicz.

Former track announcer and public relations director Jack Biddison, who could not be present, also had very kind words for Babicz.

"Mike has done so much to help Wilmot," Biddison said. "He has organized and arranged driver fan clubs, driver interviews and overall expanded the greatness of Wilmot."

Back in 1980, it was Biddison who had recommended Babicz to then long-time Wilmot track promoter Ray Tofts for the announcing job.

Tofts, who has been away from Wilmot now for about five years, said "I worked with Mike for over 20 years and he was very dependable, honest and an excellent employee. If I recall, he only missed one day of work during all of that time, I think for a wedding. I wish him only the best in whatever he does."

From reciting the Racers Prayer to the playing of the National Anthem, Babicz prided himself on getting the audience 'hooked' right from the get-go.

"At some point during every show, I would explain to the fans what each flag meant, what kinds of cars were racing that evening-you know-so they would know more about the sport," he said.

As for announcing, he still calls the action regularly at Road America in Northern Wisconsin and occasionally for the Midwest Enduro stock car series.

"It's been a really great ride at Wilmot," Babicz said. "The last night was very special. It was like on one night, almost everybody that I've crossed paths with the last 24 years while being he was present. The friendships I've developed here will always be a part of me."

Babicz thanked so many people; from 'Broadway' Bob Metzler to former track champ Dave Moulis to fellow NOA Official Jim Bernardi to John and Trish Kassner, who Babicz worked with back in the Waukegan Speedway days.

"Lots of smiles, lots of hugs-it was a very enjoyable last evening," Babicz said.

Sounds like it's been a pretty enjoyable last 24 years.

Carmel takes 2nd in ESCC Tourney

By STEVE PETERSON
Staff Reporter

After finishing a strong second in the East Suburban Catholic Conference tournament, Carmel High's tennis team won three dual meets at the Warren Columbus Day tourney, winning the title.

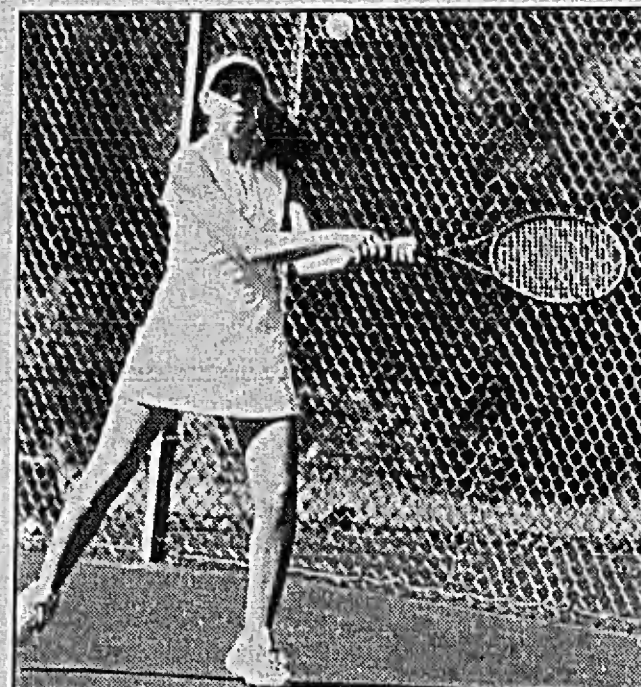

"The Warren meet was good competition for us. We had to work hard," said CHS coach Nancy Fehn.

Singles players sophomore Kristina Minor and junior Catherine Grachek won titles at the ESCC meet and breezed at Warren.

Minor is 25-2 while Grachek is unbeaten in 27 matches heading into the Oct. 17-18 sectional at Highland Park.

Also earning points at the conference meet included the third doubles team, of Marisa Fiore and Dorothy Jenke, juniors, who chalked up three points and the No. 2 doubles team of Liz Brennan and Ashley Gier, juniors, each had one point.

As for the upcoming sectional, Fehn said Libertyville, Highland Park and Stevenson could be the toughest competition in singles.

LOCAL SPORTS DIGEST

Indoor wheelchair soccer workshop

The Great Lakes Adaptive Sports Association (GLASA) and the Kenosha YMCA will be hosting a one-day indoor wheelchair soccer workshop on Saturday, Nov. 1 at the Kenosha YMCA, 7101 53rd St., Kenosha.

This one-day workshop is geared toward both the beginner and the experienced players from 12 years-of-age and up. The sport is open to everyone, combining all ability levels, with all physical disabilities from the ambulatory to the person in a power chair.

Coaches, physical educators and recreational therapists are encouraged to attend. Game strategies will be taught with drills and scrimmages conducted by a NDSA crew of coaches with over 30 years of wheelchair soccer experience. The cost is $25 and includes a box lunch, T-shirt and rulebook. Check-in is at 9 a.m. and the workshop will run from 9:30 a.m.-4 p.m. For further information, contact Dan Ferreira at GLASA at 847-283-0908 or Cindy Altergott at 262-654-7292.

Bowling Hall of Fame

On Nov. 9, the Lake County Bowling Association will hold its 10th annual Hall of Fame banquet and dinner at Midlane Country Club in Wadsworth.

Tickets are available through the Lake Bowling Associations Hall of Fame Committee and the request forms are available at all bowling centers in Lake County.

Tickets are $30 per person. Cocktail hour will begin at 6 p.m. and dinner will be served at 7 p.m. with the induction ceremony immediately following.

This year's inductees are: John Kerpan from Waukegan for Meritorious Service and Performance, Curt Aemisegger from Mundelein for Performance and Tom Bertrand from Gurnee for Meritorious Service and Performance.

SRACLC's Special Olympics Basketball

Join SRACLC's Crusaders and Jr. Crusaders basketball teams to learn the fundamentals of basketball. Dribbling, passing and shooting are just a few skills that players will learn to prepare them for games.

SRACLC sponsors four Special Olympics teams — 1 Jr. Crusaders and 3 Crusaders teams. Jr. Crusader's are for ages 8-14 and Crusaders are for ages 13 and older. Skills testing for all teams will be held on Nov. 4. The testing will determine placement on teams.

The program will be held at the Libertyville Sports Complex from 7-8 p.m. and at Hawthorn North school from 6:30-7:30 p.m.

The Crusaders teams play several games and in two tournaments during the year and are eligible to compete for a spot in the Special Olympics State Games.

For more information contact SRACLC, 847-816-4866.

KEITH RYAN SCHOLARSHIP FUND

The Keith Ryan Scholarship Fund bears the name of a courageous sports-caster and gentleman who spent nearly a quarter century promoting local sports in Lake County. Keith Ryan was a true local sports talent and communicator whose enthusiasm for life was contagious.

His career in broadcasting began at age 16 when he was hired by his brother-in-law for a non-paying job as a night disc jockey at WBUT in Butler, PA. From there, he took positions at WLEU in Erie, PA and KLOU in Lake Charles, LA. Beginning in 1955, Keith worked for two years as the afternoon disc jockey at WHOT in Youngstown, OH. He then stopped briefly in Nashville (WKDA), Cincinnati (WLKY) and Maine (WSME) before coming to WKRS in Waukegan in 1964. Keith left WKRS after eleven years to accept a position with the Regional Transportation Authority. When that job was eliminated in 1981 due to cutbacks, Keith went to work for U.S. Cable of Lake County as that company's first sportscaster. He also performed some public relations consulting work for area schools.

On February 23, 1989, Keith Ryan lost a 15-month bout with cancer, but his legacy and reputation will long be remembered. On April 29, 1989, Keith was inducted posthumously into the Illinois Basketball Coaches Hall of Fame at Illinois State University.

In May of 1988, the inaugural Keith Ryan Scholarship Fund and Sports Banquet was held to raise funds for an annual $1000 scholarship. This award is given to a Lake County High School graduate interested in pursuing a career in the media and communications field. The scholarship is offered at the College of Lake County.

Tonight, we are privileged to have our 2003 recipient, Karina Jaros, in attendance. Karina's interest in journalism started in 7th grade and continued through high school, where she served as editor-in-chief of her high school newspaper during her senior year. Karina is a resident of Round Lake Beach and began attending CLC in the spring of 2003. She has served as managing editor of CLC's student newspaper, the Chronicle, and is currently the paper's editor-in-chief. Although she has not yet declared a major, she plans to pursue a career in journalism, broadcasting or teaching.

Walter and Connie Payton Foundation

The wife of the late football legend, Walter Payton, who died of cancer in 1999, Connie has borne the challenges presented her with quiet grace and determination... traits that have emerged as her trademark. These qualities have served her well throughout a lifetime spent in positions of community service and in promoting family issues and awareness. In recognizing the importance a supportive, loving family can provide, she has sought throughout her years of public service to draw attention to those issues that can divide and destroy a family. Through the loving efforts and guidance of her parents, Connie acquired a genuine sense of family values. This provided her a strong foundation that she ultimately instilled in her own family and continues to share today with others.

During Walter Payton's life, he became a silent entrepreneur of giving, and Connie shared in this commitment to make a difference in people's lives, especially the innocent lives of neglected and abused children. Today, through the Walter and Connie Payton Foundation, Connie continues on with the integrity and dignity of the Payton name in caring for these thousands of children. The Foundation hosts a "Holiday Giving Program," which annually helps provide thousands of gifts for needy children at Christmas and is currently its largest program. Last Christmas, this program reached out to 20,000 children! Each August, the Foundation sponsors a "Back to School Drive" to provide school supplies to children to help them start the school year with all the necessary supplies. With Connie's belief that she was blessed to be a blessing to others, she strives to have the Foundation research the possibilities of additional educational, mentorship and sporting programs for these young people.

A critical illness knows no boundaries, and learning about cancer first-hand prompted Connie to establish the Walter Payton Cancer Fund. This fund seeks to aid in finding an ultimate cure for cancer and focuses on supporting efforts to find effective treatment to mitigate the ravages of the disease. The has also written an inspirational Book, "Stronger Than Cancer," which provides an insight on how loved ones pull together to support one another and shares the triumphs of those who have won their battle with this deadly disease.

A frequent speaker throughout the state and Midwest, Connie also takes every opportunity to speak out on the importance of being an organ donor. After Walter's televised plea for donors in 1999, Illinois became the #1 state for registered organ donors. The Payton family, together with Jesse White, has worked diligently for the State of Illinois to maintain this #1 status for the past 4 years. Their "Youth for Life" program, initiated by Connie's daughter, Brittney, is a tribute to what the Payton family is all about and offers everyone an opportunity for the continuation of life.

Connie Payton is a woman who acknowledges and understands the problems and adversities of others, caringly attempts to resolve those needs, and is an outstanding spokesperson for bringing public awareness to the family unit.

WAUKEGAN SPORTS HALL OF FAME

Sponsored By WAUKEGAN LIONS CLUB

The Waukegan Sports Hall of Fame was conceived in 1974 by late Waukegan Lions Club members Jerry Wendricks and Bevier Butts. Its purpose is to recognize and honor those who have excelled in athletic competition, made significant contributions to sports and been an inspiration to others through their leadership and dedication. Since its inception, it has become Waukegan's most prestigious athletic honor. Previous inductees have been competitors, coaches, media personnel and other sports luminaries.

career at Eastern he was selected First Team All-Conference, and in his senior year, he was chosen All-American. One of the highlights of his career was playing on the Panthers' National Championship Team in 1978. After his collegiate playing days, the Seattle Seahawks signed him as a free agent, and he also spent some time with the Chicago Blitz of the USFL.

Jack spent 9 years at Webster Junior High School in Waukegan, serving as a physical education teacher and coaching numerous sports.

He now resides in Duluth, Minnesota, where he teaches special education at Esko High School in Esko, Minnesota. He obtained his Master's Degree in special education from the University of Wisconsin - Superior, and he has coached high school football for the past 8 years. Also, he is a Little League baseball coach. He and his wife, Laura, have 2 children, John (11) and Faye (9).

WILLIAM MELLEN

In 1951, Bill became Waukegan High School's first-ever state wrestling champion. He was considered by many coaches to be Waukegan's finest "leg-wrestler." After high school, Bill attended the University of Illinois, where he lettered all 4 years on the Illini wrestling team.

After college, Bill joined the Navy, and during his duty, he wrestled for the Great Lakes Naval Training Station, where he finished 2nd in the Eastern Navy Tournament. He also finished 2nd in the All-Navy Tourney, losing to 1952 Olympic Silver Medallist, Joe Henson. In 1956, Bill competed in the Final Olympic Tryouts, losing only 1 match, but that loss kept him from making the Olympic Wrestling Team.

In 1957, Bill wrestled again for Great Lakes and entered the National AAU Tournament in Waynesburg, Pennsylvania, where he finished

Mellen

2nd to Silver Medallist Tommy Evan of Oklahoma.

In that same year, he was selected to represent the United States on a wrestling team that toured Japan.

DON

VANDERVERTER, JR.

A life-long resident of Waukegan, Don graduated from Waukegan Township High School in 1971.

During his senior year, he played #1 on the Varsity Golf Team. He then went on to star for the College of Lake County Golf Team under the leadership of coach Doug Sherman.

In his freshman year at CLC (1972), Don made the All-Skyway Conference Team, the All-State Team and led the Lancers to a top 10 finish in the National Tournament for community colleges. That same year, he had the distinction of being the first player north of the Mason-Dixon Line to be named All-American, as he finished 8th in the nation, the highest finish of any golfer in CLC's history, up to that time. In 1973, he received the Outstanding College Athletes of America Award.

In Don's sophomore year at CLC, once again he was selected All-Conference and All-State, winning the Illinois State Individual Championship in 1974. Don set a record for the lowest scoring average in the state and went on to place 18th in the nation. He received the prestigious Mike Kelroy Award, and his hard work, determination and natural golf swing earned him a full scholarship to play golf at the University of New Orleans. Don and his Lancer teammates still have the distinction of being CLC's best golf team ever, as they finished 3rd in the nation in 1974. That golf squad also won two conference championships and went undefeated both years.

Winner of the North Shore Amateur Championship in 1978, Don was inducted into the College of Lake County's Athletic Hall of Fame in 1999. Don and his wife, Mary Ellen, reside in Waukegan.

Lake County High Schools Sports Hall of Fame

The idea for a Lake County High Schools Sports Hall of Fame was initiated by the Keith Ryan Scholarship Committee to recognize and honor individuals for their contributions to their high schools and communities. Its purpose is to provide present and future students with a sense of the rich tradition and heritage of high school athletics, and to promote the accomplishments of the school to the outside community.

official, he worked football, basketball (boys and girls), baseball, softball and wrestling, from Little League to High School and Semi-pro. He once worked a stretch of 46 consecutive days, officiating one of the above sports, and suffered a broken jaw in 1987, when he was struck in the face with a bat during a softball game.

Lee was privileged to work three state football championships (1974, 1976 and 1980), with the 1974 assignment being the first state playoffs, pitting East St. Louis against Glenbrook North for the 4A title. Also, Lee officiated two IHSA Girls State Basketball Finals, including the Championship game in the tourney's second year. He served as Assignment's Chairman for three conferences (North Suburban, Northwest Suburban and Tri-County), which consisted of 22 schools and covered six sports (football, basketball, baseball, softball, wrestling and volleyball). Lee credits much of his success to his friend, mentor and fellow official, Norm Geske.

Lee's wife, Jean, passed away in 2002. They have four children: Marcia Fox (Antioch), Judy Bejcek (Brookfield, WI), Tim (Roseville, MN) and Greg (Pompano Beach, FL). Lee also has seven wonderful grandchildren: Tim, Bob, Tom, Scott, Michael, David and Katie.

STEPHAINE

ROMIC

(Grant Community High School)

An outstanding 3-sports star in high school, Stephanie graduated from Grant High School in 1982, where she lettered in basketball, volleyball and softball. In basketball, she was a 3-time All-Northwest Suburban Conference and All-Lake County selection and led the county in scoring her senior year with a 25.2 points per game average (she also average 12.2 rebounds per game). She led her team to a conference title in 1979 and a regional championship in 1982. She was also chosen to the Harvard and Harlem All-Tournament Teams, received All-State recognition, won two All-American awards and scored 1523 points in her high school career. She earned a full-ride athletic scholarship to the University of Illinois.

In volleyball, Stephanie was named All-Conference three times, won two MVP honors, led her squad to conference and district titles and won two All-American honors. On the softball field, she led her team to a district title, while receiving two All-Conference and two MVP Awards.

At Illinois, Stephanie was a four-year starter and four-time letter winner. The Illini participated in the first round of the NCAA Basketball Tourney in 1986 and advanced to the second round in 1987. Stephanie served as team co-captain her junior and senior years, and in her senior season, she was selected to the Illini Classic All-Tournament Team. She earned a Bachelor of Science degree in Physical Education from the University of Illinois and a Master's degree in Physical Education/Administration from Central Michigan University. Her high school and college coaching career has included stints at Grant High School (Varsity Girl's Basketball and Freshman Girl's Softball), Union Grove High School (Sophomore Girl's Basketball), Lake Forest High School (Varsity Assistant Basketball), Central Michigan University (Assistant Basketball) and Marquette University (Assistant basketball).

Stephanie is currently the General Manager of Comfort Suites and Country Inn and Suites in Gurnee and serves on the Board of Directors of Gurnee's Chamber of Commerce. Also, she is the Chair and Director of the Hotels/Innkeepers of Lake County and President of the Oakwood Knolls Property Association, where she resides in Antioch. Stephanie is the proud aunt of 11 nieces and nephews.

DEREK

SHELTON

(Warren High School)

Derek is a 1988 graduate of Warren Township High School, where he lettered in baseball, basketball and football. On the diamond, he was a 3-year varsity starter and 3-time All-North Suburban Conference and All-Lake County selection. On the hardwood and gridiron, he was twice selected All-Conference and once All-County. He was his team's MVP in all three sports his senior year and was also the baseball team's MVP his junior season. He was the first male athlete in Blue Devil history to be All-County in three sports in the same year, and one of the few ever in Lake County history to receive such honors. Also, he received the DW Thompson Outstanding Senior Award given annually to the outstanding Warren senior. In baseball, his #8 was retired by Warren High School in 1994. In basketball, he led the Blue Devils to their first-ever appearance in the IHSA's Sweet 16 Tournament, and in football, he held the school record for passing yards in a single game and season, until his brother, Craig, broke them in 1992. Derek received a baseball scholarship to Southern Illinois University in Carbondale. At SIU, Derek lettered in baseball all four years, and was the Salukis' starting catcher from his sophomore through his senior year. In 1990, the Salukis won the Missouri Valley Conference Championship, and Derek had the opportunity to play in the Stanford Regional. In 1992, he was chosen All-Missouri Valley Conference, was an All-MVC Academic Selection (two years) and named to the Regional Academic All-American Team. In his senior year at Southern, he was the recipient of the Abe Martin Award, given by the coaches to the MVP in baseball and also received the Student-Athlete Leadership Award given to the outstanding leader in all sports on campus.

After graduating from SIU, Derek was signed by the New York Yankees and played in their minor league system for 1 1/2 years, until elbow surgery ended his career. He began his professional coaching career with the Yankees in 1997, serving as a hitting coach for 3 years: 2 years in the Gulf Coast League and 1 year in the Florida State League. He managed the Gulf Coast Yankees in both 2000 and 2001, winning the Division Championship in 2000 and the League Championship in 2001.

In 2001, Derek was honored as the Gulf Coast and Baseball America Rookie League Manager of the Year. He then managed the Staten Island Yankees in 2002 and won both the Division and League titles, winning 70% of his games. His overall managerial winning percentage is 68%. Derek is currently the hitting coordinator for the Cleveland Indians, the youngest in baseball to hold that position.

Derek and his wife, Rachel, reside in Wesley Chapel, Florida. They have a son, Jackson (age three) and are expecting their second child in February of 2004.

LARRY

TENPAS

(Waukegan High School)

A 1952 graduate of Waukegan Township High School, Larry was a 2-time state wrestling champion at 145 pounds, scoring 47 wins in back-to-back undefeated seasons. In '52, he qualified for the final Olympic Trials in Ames, Iowa.

A much sought-after wrestler, Larry chose the University of Illinois to continue his grappling career. At Illinois, he was chosen the team's Outstanding Wrestler three years in a row and was also a 3-time All-American, taking a 3rd, a 2nd and in 1956, the NCAA National Championship. That same year, he was second man on the Olympic Greco-Roman Wrestling Team.

A year later, while serving in the U.S. Army, Larry was runner-up in the 1957 Nationals at 160.5 pounds, where he soundly defeated Ernie Fisher, who had represented the USA in the 1956 Olympics.

In 1958, Larry won a National AAU championship and was chosen to represent the United States against the Russian traveling team. However, a knee injury prevented him from competing. Larry ended his wrestling career in 1960.

He began his coaching career in 1960, serving as freshman-sophomore wrestling coach at Waukegan Township High School. He became the Head Wrestling Coach in 1967, a position he held until 1984.

Larry is a member of the Waukegan Lions Club Sports Hall of Fame and the Illinois Hall of Fame, as both a coach and a wrestler. He has also been inducted into the National Collegiate Association Hall of Fame for his selection as a 3-time All-American. Larry and his wife, Jesse, reside in Waukegan and have two daughters, Janet (husband, Shane) and Lawrie (husband, Bill) and a son, Lawrence. They also enjoy three grandchildren: Kaitlyn, Kelly and Steffie. In addition, Larry has served as a Waukegan Alderman in the 6th Ward for 28 years and was recently elected to another 4-year term.

JEFF

ZGONINA

(Carmel High School)

Born on May 24, 1970 in Chicago, Jeff is a 1988 graduate of Carmel High School. Jeff lettered in basketball, track and hockey, but it was on the gridiron where he truly excelled. An outstanding defensive lineman, he earned All-East Suburban Catholic Conference, All-County, All-Chicago Area and All-State honors.

His next stop was Purdue University (1989-92), where he was a 4-year starter and set a school record for tackles for loss with 75. As a sophomore, he had a career-high 123 tackles, and in his junior year, he was selected All-Big 10, when he posted 76 tackles from his nose tackle position. In his senior year (1992), he was the Big Ten Defensive Player of the Year and All-Big 10 again, as he recorded 101 tackles (including 28 for loss), forced five fumbles and had conference-leading 13 sacks. He also served as the Boilermakers' team captain and was a finalist for the Lombardi Award. He graduated from Purdue with a degree in community health promotion.

Jeff was a 7th round draft choice (185th overall) of the Pittsburgh Steelers in 1993. In his rookie season, he played in five games for the Steelers, and a year later, appeared in all 16 Steelers' games, recording 10 tackles. In 1995, he was signed by the Carolina Panthers where he appeared in a couple games.

In 1996, the Atlanta Falcons signed Jeff and he played in eight games, tallying 19 tackles, a sack and a fumble recovery. His next stop was St. Louis (1997), where he appeared in 15 games, registered 22 tackles, two sacks, two passes defended, added four special teams tackles and earned the Rams' 12 Man Award. In 1998, he was released by the Raiders and signed again by the Colts, for whom he played two games. In 1999, he was back with the Rams, played in all 16 games and recorded 41 tackles. He also appeared in all three of the Rams' playoff games, recording 2 tackles and a sack in the NFC Championship game against Tampa Bay and four tackles in Super Bowl XXXIV versus Tennessee. In 2000, he made his first NFL start for the Rams and led the defensive line with six tackles against Seattle. In 2001, he started 13 games, notched 66 tackles and had four fumble recoveries during the regular season and recorded eight tackles in the NFC Championship game against Philadelphia and four tackles in Super Bowl XXXVI versus New England. In 2002, Jeff started all 16 games at right defensive tackle for the Rams and recorded a career-high 81 tackles, added four sacks for 29 yards in losses, forced three fumbles and added a fumble recovery.

On March 31, 2003, Jeff signed a 4-year contract with the Miami Dolphins as an unrestricted free agent. He and his wife, Cammie, have a daughter, Bailey Olivia, and currently reside in Plantation, Florida.
